Ask $76,197,015 To Run Wisconsin Next Two Years

Budget Request Placed Before
Legislature At Mad-

EXPENSES 8 MILLIONS MORE
Committees Expected To Make Changes In Present
Estimates

By Associated Press
Madison—Budget requests totalling $76,197,015 the amount, which heads of state departments and institutions estimate will be required to meet their fiscal needs for the biennium 1923 to 1925, were placed before the legislature Tuesday by J. B. Borden, secretary of state board of public affairs.

The requests for funds to operate the state government and its activities, were submitted to the members of the two houses without recommendation by the public affairs board. In each instance the joint finance committee of the legislature will consider the estimate contained in the budget, and recommend appropriations commensurate with what it feels is the actual need.

BUDGET INCREASED
Requests for funds are $8,000,000 larger than the appropriations granted by the 1921 legislature. They call for $68,201,000 to be spent on operation, $1,433,433 to be spent on maintenance and $6,561,004 to be spent in the capital for the various state departments and institutions during the biennium.

Boards, commissions and departments ask $19,537,601 to carry on their activities during 1923-24, and $21,554,561 for 1924-25. Charitable and penal institutions have requests of $5,721,369 for 1923-24, and $6,734,564 for 1924-25, while educational activities exclusive of the university and normal schools are asking $3,007,839 for 1923-24 and $2,234,759 for 1924-25.

SCHOOL ASK FOR MONEY
The nine Wisconsin normal schools ask $2,719,240 for the first year of the biennium and $2,572,126 for the second, while the university request is for $5,935,177 for the first year and $6,099,723 for the second. This makes the total requests $36,981,276 for 1923-24 and $39,215,739 for 1924-25, the largest estimate financial needs ever advanced by the state departments and institutions.

APIARISTS FAVOR STANDARD JARS

Beekeepers of Outagamie-co are in favor of the adoption of standard size honey containers, it developed at a public hearing conducted by B. B. Jones, Madison, of the state department of markets.

Similar hearings are being held throughout the state to secure legislation that will bring about standard sizes of honey containers. Glass jars in cans and pails now used are of the most divergence of sizes. Standardization, it is believed will reduce fraud and deception as well as eliminate much expense in the manufacture of the containers. The same thing resulted from standardizing the size of grape baskets by the federal government.

A vote was taken in the hearing in favor of reducing the number of sizes of jars and cans to less than a half dozen and recommendations were made as to their shape and size.

POOR CANARY WANTED DRINK; CROWD CALLS POLICE DEPARTMENT

Long Beach, Calif.—The police department worked for more than an hour to get a drink for a canary. Somebody passing a show window in a store temporarily closed saw the bird repeatedly thrust its bill into the empty water cup attached to its cage. A crowd gathered. Some one telephoned the police.

Detectives responding, ascertained the store was under the protection of a private detective agency. Operatives of that concern were notified. Finally a man with a key to the store responded. He filled the canary's water cup.

DEMOCRATS ENGAGE IN SENATE FIGHT

Battle Keen As Party Members
Split In Choice For Leader

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—There's as lively a contest going on among the Democrats of the senate for the position of minority leader as if it were the presidency itself. The race is close. The friends of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who is running against Senator Robinson of the end, insist they will win.

Careful canvass of the polls made by both sides would seem to indicate that, while the Simmons followers claim 18 of the present members who will be in the next senate, as against 14 for Robinson, the other side declares two of the 18 are not definitely committed and will be Robinson in the end.

NEW MEN TO DECIDE
So the conceded vote of both sides stand at 16 for Simmons and 14 for Robinson with two doubtful. The ten newly elected members will decide the issue. All sorts of efforts are being made to commit the new senators to one side or the other. Two or three privately have committed themselves but do not wish to say so publicly.

RETAIL DRY GOODS MEN IN MEETING

Several Appleton merchants will attend the sixth annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Dry Goods association which opens in Milwaukee on Tuesday. The principal program will take place on Wednesday. About 1,000 merchants in Wisconsin are members of the organization. Much of the convention will be devoted to means for correcting trade abuses and to lowering costs of distribution, thereby decreasing prices of commodities they sell.

Among the speakers are George F. Kull of Madison, formerly of Appleton and F. M. Wilcox, Madison, also a former Appleton resident.

J. D. Steele, H. L. Post, H. E. Tunison and C. E. Mullen are among the Appleton men who will attend the meeting.

New York—John D. Ryan of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. announced his organization was negotiating for control of the Chile copper company in a deal involving $150,000,000.

14-Mile Race To Save Boy Fails At Hospital Door

A race with death occurred Sunday afternoon in which the grim reaper won by only a few moments. The attempt to save the life of Henry Lemberger, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lemberger, residing on a farm one mile east of Sherwood, came to naught when the young man died as he was borne on a stretcher into the elevator at St. Elizabeth hospital.

The youth became seriously ill at his home when his appendix became ruptured. An immediate operation was necessary and with possibility

OFFER LAND TO CITY FOR ROAD AT BRIDGE SITE

Fourth Ward Property Owners
And Country Club Encourage Cherry-Scout Move

Further obstacles to the common council's bridge program were removed Monday evening when owners of property on the proposed right-of-way extending south from Cherry-st bridge informed the committee on streets and bridges that they are willing to donate their share of the right-of-way to the city.

A further incentive was given the council by the offer of the Riverview Country club to donate a portion of land for a small park at the south end of Cherry-st bridge.

The offer of right-of-way was made by five property owners whose land is within the city limits and the county line. The distance of the proposed street will be a half mile and the width 100 feet which is somewhat ampler than some of the alderman had anticipated. A right-of-way of 80 feet was considered by some as sufficient. A street 100 feet wide, however, would make room for a boulevard.

Mayor Reuter was impressed with the good spirit of the property owners who announced their intention of donating the right-of-way without asking to be exempt of pavement obligations. He believes if the street is opened up, the adjoining property will become one of the finest residential sections of the Fox River valley and that a number of wealthy persons already contemplating purchase of property here for residences.

Right-of-way extending north from the proposed bridge location was assured some time ago when A. W. Priest offered the city the necessary land free of charge.

Lynch Rail Man; City In Turmoil

By Associated Press
Little Rock, Ark.—One alleged railroad striker lynched, armed citizens parading the streets in search of other reputed strikers, a general exodus of former railroad employees who went on strike two years ago, the Mayor and council ordered to resign and the town marshal ordered to leave town and possibility that the Arkansas National guard would be called out, was the situation at Harrison, Ark., Tuesday reported by the Harrison correspondent of the Arkansas Democrat from Harrison.

The situation at Harrison is the result of burning of bridges, destruction of machinery and other depredations along the Missouri and North Arkansas railway. Some of the crimes date back to nearly two years ago when the strike on the road began. Three bridges burned last week brought matters to a point where officials of the road virtually decided upon the abandonment of the route.

SIX OFFICERS ELECTED AT TRINITY MEETING

At the annual meeting of Trinity English Lutheran church Monday evening William Roocks, August Rademacher and Otto Tilly were elected officers and Gustav Tesch, August Rademacher and John Luaders, trustees.

Reports of all the societies were made and it was decided to have communion services at 10:30 on the first Sunday morning of each month. The reports of the societies in every case showed a substantial balance of money.

VOTE GERMANY IN DEFAULT OF GOODS AGAIN

Deliveries For 1923 Declared
Willfully Withheld By Berlin Empire

Paris—The reparations commission Tuesday decided that Germany had willfully defaulted in deliveries in kind for 1923. France, Belgium and Italy voted so. Kemball Cook, representing England in place of Sir John Bradbury, who was reported as indisposed, abstained from voting.

The default, it was explained by Louis Barthou, president of the commission resulted from the refusal of the German government to make deliveries in kind while the French were in the Ruhr.

The French high commissioners were anxious to obtain the vote of the reparations commission declaring this default, as an authorization for the French policy of requisitions which it is believed will be enforced immediately.

CONFER ALL DAY ON JUNIOR H. S. PLANS

During an all day session of the high school board of education in the office of Mayor Henry Reuter Monday, members discussed proposed plans for the two new junior high school buildings with Mr. Perkins of the architectural firm of Perkins, Fellows & Harlan, who have been engaged to draw the plans for the schools. Various suggestions that may be incorporated in the plans and specifications were made to the architect.

Raises Query

Paris—An authoritative statement from American quarters here Tuesday makes it clear that "the American reparations plan" before the reparations commission was drawn up in an effort to "fit" with the American government's views on the reparations problem.

The statement says the plan as drawn never was mailed to Secretary of State Hughes for his consideration about Nov. 20 last, and that the secretary was believed to have had the plan before the end of November.

Since Secretary Hughes made no changes or suggestions in regard to the plan it has been assumed by the representatives of the state department here that it met with his approval.

SIX IN COUNTY JAIL FOR THIRTY DAYS

Judge Metes Out Sentences For Moonshiners And Three
Who Stole

Seven persons were given jail sentences by Judge A. M. Spencer Monday. Six of these were committed to the county jail for 30 days and one was sentenced to 10 days in the county workhouse. Another person who had been held at the jail since Friday was released.

Besides the two young women, Mrs. Pearl Trichel and Mrs. Julia Perry of Kaukauna, who pleaded guilty to shoplifting Monday morning, Ocelva Gagneau of Oneida, Sidney Steward of Seymour, Joseph Carter of Maple Creek, and Anton Hoersch, Kernan-ave, were each sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail.

All four men had been taken in moonshine raids last week. In view of the age or infirmity of these men, Judge Spencer exercised clemency by sending them to the county jail instead of to the workhouse. Each one of them was in a weak physical condition. It was feared that exposure at hard labor at the workhouse might aggravate their troubles and make county charges of the men.

Harold Carter, son of Joseph Carter, was sentenced to 10 days in the workhouse, for stealing an automobile robe from George Gough of Bear Creek. His brother, Otto, who at first was implicated and held in custody, was released for lack of incriminating evidence.

Don't Be Fooled! Europe On Upgrade, Says Barnes

BY JULIUS BARNES
President, Chamber of Commerce of United States

Washington — A survey of old world conditions today presents to the observer many discouraging aspects.

It is on the basis of these depressing surface observations that we find the basis of gloomy prophecies.

But there is possible a sounder more searching analysis, from which can be drawn a more wholesome and a happier expectation for the future of Europe.

PESSIMISTIC VIEW
A pessimist would make this resume of Europe:

The Turk, traditional barbarian, is back in Europe, arrogant and defiant claiming the right to close by fortifications the open seaway of the Dardanelles.

Greece, stripped of its newly acquired expansion, visits its wrath with middle-age savagery upon its luckless public officials.

The Balkan states, ancient cradle of world wars, fluctuate between a sound social experiments and tempests of popular passion against ministries.

Russia makes boasts of armed force with its mythical armies, while its millions of people prepare for a new famine.

Austria, content as the international mendicant, awaits the outcome of financial and economic administrations by more capable people.

Germany a formerly great and competent people brought almost to a state of national beggary.

Italy, boasting since Garibaldi a constitution under which the League of Italian States has grown into a great nation, sees today the seizure of power by the Fascist without constitutional warrant.

France, blind to the economic lesson of history that no victor can collect 50 per cent and more of the en-

What's going to come of the new turmoil in Europe? Few men are so well qualified to analyze conditions as is Julius Barnes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce. For years, in his business as a grain exporter, Barnes has amassed information about economic and political conditions abroad.

During the war he served as president of the United States Food Administration Grain corporation and afterward as president of the United States Grain corporation. Now as president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Barnes is promoting the Chamber's project for American representation on the reparations commission. He has written the following synopsis of the European situation especially for the Post-Crescent.

Great Britain, dependent for its prosperity on the full employment of its people, facing today almost the largest problem of unemployment in its history.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW
But there is a more real and hopeful aspect.

The Turk will be held at the Dardanelles by the reunited Christian nations of Europe until there are as sureties given civilization that he has renounced his barbaric past.

Greece will resume its normal and proper place in the society of nations.

The Balkan states have learned the need of economic unity. Mutual agreements facilitating the flow of transportation and the commodities of transport are reducing traditional antagonisms.

Russia is able now to partake a little of the diet of national and individual respect for pledges and for principles.

SOME SOLID NATIONS
Switzerland, Holland, Sweden and Japan, together with Canada and the United States, are islands of honest administrative functioning which are recording their currency denominations on the party of gold.

Spain and Great Britain lack but a small per cent of full recovery.

When Great Britain attains the nominal gold parity, then there will be resumed the liquid flow of gold in settlement of gold balances, the breaking down of trade barriers and the elimination of trade hazards. Then the wheels of world industry will revolve with new activity.

Those who forecast the economic collapse of Europe, even those who doubt its steady progress toward certain recovery, fail to grasp the fundamentals on which human activities are sustained.

Figures of coal output, of railroad transport, of steel output, of textile operations—all the indices which measure the opportunities for employment of peoples—today trend in the right direction.

BULLETIN
Milwaukee, Wis.—The Walter Brothers Brewing Company, Menasha, was fined $1,700 in Federal court here on charges of manufacturing beer containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol.

Milwaukee—The Walter Brothers Brewing Co., Menasha, was served Tuesday by a deputy United States marshal with an indictment returned at the recent session of the grand jury charging the manufacture and sale of beer of illegal strength.

The brewing company was indicted on 17 counts, 13 charge sales of beer, two possession of beer and two manufacture of 400 barrels.

Roy Winchester, of Oshkosh, was arrested on an indictment which charged him with embezzling money from a National bank. Winchester was assistant teller of the Old Commercial National bank of Oshkosh. He is charged with having embezzled $2,600.

Clyde L. Kimball, postal employee, Neenah and Harry C. Zimmerman, Fond du Lac, were arrested on indictments charging embezzlement of money order funds. Kimball was a clerk in the money order department of the Neenah postoffice. He is charged with having embezzled $264. Zimmerman was a rural letter carrier. The charge against him is that he embezzled money order funds to the amount of $74.

vate property, which more advanced peoples learned centuries ago.

Germany has so discredited the experiment and tenets of Socialism that, today, the Socialistic party refuses the responsibilities of the present government. A settlement of the reparations question within the practical limits of the honest attempt of the German people to perform, would make effective the needed financial aid to France and Belgium, and would start the processes of industry in central Europe.

If France seems today to tend toward dreams of militarism, we may be sure that the day will come soon with its old true perspective of its proper place and mission. Some just and fair way will be devised to secure from Germany the restitution to which France is entitled, and within the limits of Germany's efforts in good faith to pay. Relieved of its traditional fear of unprovoked attack, and with the unrivaled willingness of its people at home to work and save, France will vindicate, in national progress, our confidence and trust.

Great Britain, taxing its people at a rate which can be laid indeed on few peoples without rebellion, is working its way slowly back to its former dominant position in world trade and finance. A measure of its parity of the pound sterling.

FEVER OF WAR GONE
Summarizing Europe as a whole, the fever of war is well out of the blood of its peoples.

There is clear indication of the almost universal desire to work and to produce.

Those countries that have developed sound financial policies and honest practices, like any thrifty individual are working their way back to normal and healthy life.

Their program is shown by the gold parity of their currencies, repelling ability to trade overseas, to exchange commodities, to supply the wants of their people and to sell the products of their own industries.

Moscow—A demonstration against war and the French occupation of the Ruhr was staged by the workmen of many factories here Monday after ceremonies in observance of the fourth anniversary of the assassination in Berlin of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg.

"Down with the French imperialists; long live the German revolution," many of the banners carried read.

Although the Communists' hope for ultimate revolution in Germany the correspondent is informed that Russian government circles prefer tranquility in that country at this time.

One widely known Communist asserted that if a workman's revolution took place in Germany now, Russia would probably be obliged not only to aid the German Communists with arms but feed the population.

25,000 TROOPS CONCENTRATE AT MUENSTER

Invading Army Now Past Neutral Zone Established By Versailles Treaty

BULLETIN
DORTMUND—French general headquarters has information that 25,000 men of the German reichswehr are concentrated south of Muenster, less than 25 miles north of Luenen to the north of Dortmund. The French have advanced to both Dortmund and Luenen and the outposts of the French and German forces at some points are only from eight to ten miles apart.

The French, by advancing to Dortmund and Luenen, passed out of the neutral zone fixed by the Versailles treaty on the right bank of the Rhine from which German regular troops are barred, into the territory where the reichswehr holds sway.

The French are continuing to send up reserves which are taking up positions behind the River Lippe.

The occupation of the Ruhr basin is now complete and the French declare that not a single pound of coal can get out of the Ruhr into unoccupied territory without their checking it up for the coal tax.

ORDER IS RESTORED

Paris—Order has been restored at Bochum, in the newly occupied Ruhr District where a clash occurred between German demonstrators and the French troops of occupation Monday night, it was officially announced here Tuesday afternoon.

The incident is described in an official communique from the ministry of war as having arisen from demonstrations organized by the young Communists of Bochum Monday when the French forces occupied the city.

During one of the demonstrations, at 6 o'clock in the morning a crowd estimated at 2,000 persons, says the statement, attacked a French post which was occupying the railroad station. The demonstration fired and traces of the bullets were found in the walls of the buildings under occupation. The officer in charge of the post ordered his men to fire to clear his detachment, and one of the demonstrators was killed and two others wounded. The French suffered no casualties.

BERLIN IN PANIC
London—The French threat to arrest the German coal directors in the Ruhr valley has caused a panic in Berlin, says a Central News dispatch from the German capitol Tuesday afternoon. On the Berlin exchange Tuesday morning the dollar rate was around 18.00 marks.

SITUATION UNCOMFORTING
Essen—Whatever the outcome of the conference set for Tuesday at Duesseldorf between the German industrial magnates and the French economic mission, the Ruhr valley appeared Tuesday morning to be in line for an uncompromising military occupation.

"We've tried soft methods and the Germans have refused to cooperate," The correspondent was told at the French military headquarters. "If they don't come to terms now they will get a taste of what they gave Belgium and northern France. We will give them something to whine for."

Tuesday's meeting to which the German industrial leaders had been invited under the threat that if they failed to appear they would be sent for, was to be presided over by General Degoutte. From the windows of the conference room in Duesseldorf city hall, the French tanks, armored cars and infantry were discernable as they moved forward to strengthen the hold of the French upon Germany's rich coal fields.

There was great interest as to whether the Stinnes holdings would comply with the summons to send a representative to the conference. Herr Stinnes himself was reported in Berlin.

Rome—Premier Mussolini told his cabinet that Italy had advised France to limit her actions in the Ruhr valley and not shut the door upon a possible agreement.

FRIGHTENED BY POLICE

My Dad and I were going down town Monday evening when we saw three young boys near Hamm's Pop Factory. One of them was leaning up against the building and looked as though he was crying. Dad went up to him and saw that he was lighting a cigarette. Dad took it away from him and when he saw that Dad was a policeman's uniform, he certainly was frightened. When he promised never to do it again and begged not to be taken to the station, we went on. R. M. M.

A GOOD MOON WAGON
Saturday night I was standing on the steps of Armory G when a group of young men came out of the building and entered a car with the curtains drawn. They turned on the light and we could see them passing around a jug. When they left the car, another group of young men went over to it, found the jug and after tasting the liquor, took the jug with them. About ten of them disappeared between the church and the armory. M. P.

Prohibition Law Is Three Years Old Today; Dry Leaders Satisfied

Appleton Men And Women Believe Progress Has Been Made To Overcome Great Obstacles

Three years ago today, amid great lamentations in one camp and great rejoicing in another, the law was clamped down on the saloon which had been an institution in this country since the earliest day. Today is the third anniversary of that memorable day when the Eighteenth amendment, with its petite companion, the Volstead act, became operative.

Many and varied are the opinions concerning the amendment and the law. No one denies that it has been the source of more discussion than all the laws ever put on the statute books of this country. In certain quarters and among certain persons it is more or less a joke, to be violated as fancy dictates, while among other persons it is regarded as one of the most sacred and most worthy laws this nation has ever enacted.

Local prohibition leaders are fairly well satisfied with the way the law has been operating, they indicated Monday. They believe that remarkable progress toward a national Sahara has been made considering the numerous obstacles that stood in their way. Each succeeding year will see an improvement in enforcement, most of them believe.

LAW IS ENFORCED

"There is no question but the law is being enforced quite successfully and there is much less drinking than formerly," Dr. Samuel Plantz said. "Not only that, but the public is satisfied that a great deal more is being done than is generally realized and that the elimination of the open saloon is a big advantage to the rising generation." There has been a great increase in the observance of laws, Dr. Plantz believes. He also said if half as much is done to enforce the law as is done to overthrow it the difficulties would be less.

R. A. Haynes, United States prohibition commissioner told Dr. Plantz a short time ago that he was satisfied with the results of the work so far.

IMPROVE WITH AGE

"Considering the extreme change from open saloons to prohibition the law has been reasonably successful although it will take a generation to get the full benefit of it," J. G. Rosebush told the interviewer. Old stock will have to be used and a new race of men come to the front before the full benefit will be derived from prohibition.

"Temporarily the illegal 'moonshine' is causing a great deal of disturbance, but this must pass away in time as thinking people come to see how wrong the business is and how little they actually gain by it. People should not be misled by propaganda for light wines and beer as a small number of men often can create a lot of smoke."

That there is no likelihood of a step backwards being taken, Mr. Rosebush believes.

Mrs. L. A. Pardee stated emphatically that prohibition has been a success as far as has been possible, considering all the obstacles in its way but that it still has a great deal to overcome before it can be called a complete victory. She is of the opinion the eighteenth amendment will never be taken from the constitution but that the Volstead act will be eventually.

CONDITIONS ARE BETTER

That the conditions among working men have been much improved through prohibition and that there is a great deal less drinking was a statement made by J. E. Bond who also thinks it has been remarkably successful, taking into consideration the conditions it has had to overcome. Mr. Bond said the reaction at first was especially great in such wet states as Wisconsin and New Jersey, making them hard propositions. Much money is spent by the anti-prohibitionists in propaganda and the noise they create is apt to be deceiving to those who do not understand the purpose of it, he said.

The fact that in less than three years, prohibition has succeeded in abolishing the open saloon is sufficient reason, according to Miss Flora Kethro to consider prohibition as succeeding.

U. P. French, anti-saloon league superintendent, stated that prohibition has been a remarkable success considering the adverse conditions under which it has worked and the fact that it is just three years old. It has been successful also from the standpoint of the business man and the welfare of society, he said.

The reaction in favor of light wines and beer said Mr. French, has made the fight much harder and especially in Wisconsin, as it has an overwhelming foreign population. It has as well been the source of about one-sixth of all the beer made in the United States. It is his opinion the biggest fight is ahead as the eighteenth amendment was just the beginning and not the climax.

Personally Mr. French thinks the fight ahead is not so much for prohibition which he considers a secondary consideration, but rather a fight to uphold the constitution of the United States.

County Jail Holds Eight For Sentence

Sheriff Otto H. Zuchiko had a large list of guests on his jail directory Monday. The county jail held eight prisoners at that time, two of whom were women, and six of whom were held pending their sentence by Judge A. M. Spencer. All the men are involved in moonshine raids. The women, arrested for shoplifting are the first for a long time to serve a jail sentence.

INTEREST IS KEEN IN HUBER MEASURE

An indication of how intense the interest is in labor and industrial circles in the Huber bill which will come before the Wisconsin legislature is shown in the demand for copies of the bulletin prepared by Appleton Chamber of Commerce dealing with this matter. The bill provides for unemployment compensation in industry. LaCrosse Chamber of Commerce has ordered 100 copies of the publication and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, 150 copies. It will be necessary to prepare a second edition of the pamphlet to supply these and other demands.

EXTRA! Read The Theme Of "THE POWER OF A LIE"

John Hammond, abjured by his cold blooded, aristocratic wife, Joan, not to help the drunken and wasteful fiancée of his sister, Betty Hammond, likes the young fellow, Richard Burton, and determines to help him secretly—so he endorses Burton's note for ten thousand to help him start an architectural business of his own. Burton expects by success and hard work to regain the favor of Betty Hammond, who has concurred with her sister-in-law's wish and broken her engagement with him. Hammond, questioned about the financial favor by his wife, tells a "lie of evasion." From that lie grows more lies, more evasions, bitter words, public denunciations, a scalding society scandal, the death of a prominent society clubman, a trail of broken hearts and blasted hopes until the great dragon of deceit draws the cowed figures in the drama into the courtroom where Honor, Mercy, Pride and Love are the battlers in a fight over something that grew out of—nothing! From lie to lie and crime to crime the characters move in one of the strangest stories ever written.

WHEATON AGAIN IS NAMED HEAD OF GAME SOCIETY

Secretary Must Serve Without Pay—Membership Large—History

W. R. Wheaton was reelected president of Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association at the annual meeting at the Elk club Monday evening. After his name had been proposed as his own successor, George Merkel moved that the nominations be closed and that the secretary be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot in his favor which was carried unanimously. O. C. Smith was reelected vice president.

L. Chamberlain, secretary-treasurer, was nominated to succeed himself, but refused to become a candidate for reelection without compensation. Prior to the election of officers a resolution was passed to the effect that after the annual meeting Jan. 15 no compensation should be paid to the secretary-treasurer for the work performed by him, but that the executive committee might in its judgment provide such sums as it deemed necessary for clerical work.

TUCKER GETS JOB
Mr. Chamberlain said he more than earned the salary he had been receiving and that as the office required a great deal of his time he could not afford to perform the duties without compensation notwithstanding his heart was in the work. Major A. Tucker volunteered to do the work under the new conditions and was elected.

The president read his report for 1922 which was followed by that of the secretary-treasurer. The latter report showed that receipts for the year were $668.29 and the expenses $514.78, leaving a balance on hand of $153.51. The total membership was 436.

The resolution passed at the meeting of the conservation commission at Madison in July 1922, and which the commission proposes to have inserted into law were discussed at length. One of them concerned the pollution of streams by industrial plants and was accompanied by a petition that the legislature appropriate the sum of $10,000 annually to be turned over to the state board of health to be used as it sees fit in remedying the condition.

Other resolutions discussed concerned the prohibiting of trolling from motor boats in inland waters, governing fur-farming in Wisconsin, and that trappers be required to get tags from the conservation commission for all furs and attach them to the hides before the furs can be sold.

Among the members who attended the meeting were A. H. Wickert of Neenah, and Otto Look, Dr. E. C. Hallock and Percy Chamberlain of Kaukauna.

PLANT WILD RICE
In his annual report President Wheaton said the association had planted some 50 pounds of rice in Little Lake Butte des Morts in an effort to raise wild rice there.

"We received from the Wisconsin conservation commission," he said, "10,000 wall eyed pike fry and eight cans of black bass fingerlings which were planted in Little Lake Butte des Morts and upper Fox river. In addition to this we received from the United States bureau of fisheries for the rescue work on the Mississippi river a carload of fingerlings of small mouth black bass, croppies, channel cat, and sun fish. These were planted in the upper Fox river and the lower end of Little Lake Butte des Morts.

"Last February this section of the state was visited by a very severe sleet storm. We received notice that partridges were dying in the country because of their inability to get food. Your association promptly took measures to feed these birds and take care of them until they were able to get their food themselves. The cost of this to the association was refunded by the conservation commission.

WANT PARTRIDGES HERE

"Your committee investigated the possibility of game propagation and decided it would be possible, with the aid of proper protection from the state authorities, at a cost of $500, to stock Outagamie-co with Hungarian partridge, that in a period of five years, these birds would be sufficiently numerous to provide food shooting for everyone. We commend this to your attention and suggest that an effort be made to raise the necessary $500 to try out this experiment.

"We wish to call your attention to the fact that we need and should have, a game warden in Outagamie-co. Your committee on law enforcement found many infractions of game laws during the past year. Most of these could have been nipped in the bud and the offenders caught and handed and punished if we had a game warden here who could have acted promptly.

"As it is, we are obliged to call a warden from Oshkosh and the territory he has to cover is so great that in all cases which came to our attention except one, the warden arrived too late to be of any service. This county needs at least one game warden stationed in Appleton, and every effort should be exhausted to get such service.

"An intensive drive for membership was put on in March, resulting in a membership of 462. The secretary advises that this is the largest membership this association has ever enjoyed."

Dad's Lure For Trinkets Spurs Sale Of Cuff Links

Do men wear more cuff links or are they just getting a little vain and demanding as big a variety of them as women sport in ear rings? To be perfectly fair to both, if mother sports a half dozen varieties of expensive and exclusive earrings father appears to have the right to waste a few dollars on unique cuff links if only to satisfy his craving to have as big a collection of trinkets as she.

Not so many years ago every man appearing in society was not considered properly dressed unless he sported a stick pin of some description. Stick pins still are sold, especially the ones of better quality but they are not the most popular type of men's jewelry. Cuff links seem to be asserting themselves and forcing the pins back into second place. Not cheap cuff links either, for the ones which seemed to be popular this year at Christmas time ranged from ten to thirty dollars. They were so much in demand that one jewelry store with a complete and exceptionally large supply was entirely sold out and a reorder of nearly three times the original number also disappeared quickly.

That the wrong impression may not be taken it might be added that a man is not displaying poor taste by wearing a stick pin but merely that the pins are not quite the popular article they were some years back. However, a number were sold at Christmas time of good quality and splendid looking. This taste for good jewelry might indicate that the public really disapproves heartily of cheap trinkets and is endeavoring to see that the better type is worn.

PICK COMMITTEES FOR PIONEER EVENT

Annual Gathering Of Early Residents Occurs As Usual On February 22

Committees in charge of the program for the annual gathering of Outagamie Pioneer association were appointed by the directors at a meeting Saturday in the office of P. E. Harrison, Odd Fellow hall.

The reunion will take place on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, as usual. There will be a business meeting in the morning in Odd Fellow hall, followed by a picnic dinner at 12 o'clock. A program will be presented in the afternoon. Many residents of the county are expected.

The committees appointed include: Decorations—David Brattschneider, chairman; C. H. Heusemann, L. C. Jens, J. E. Pravel, L. Koepke, Martin Boldt, Stephen Meldam, Henry Jung, H. E. Kretschman.

Table and hall arrangements—D. C. Koepke, S. M. Benedict, F. H. Harriman, A. C. Rule, W. R. Johnston, E. F. Brown.

Ladies' banquet committee—Mrs. Kate Rhodes, Mrs. W. H. Dean, Mrs. W. H. Zuehlke, Mrs. B. C. Koepke, Mrs. L. F. Bushy, Mrs. Clara Siekmann, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. W. R. Johnston, Mrs. W. C. Williams.

Reception committee—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Priest, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Saeker, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bowly, Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Benedict.

Henry Kreiss and William F. Saeker were appointed to secure the speaker for the annual address and William F. Saeker and E. W. Shannon form a committee to secure a minister.

The ushers are W. E. Smith, O. W. Schaefer, E. A. Walther and W. C. Williams. The programs will be planned by N. C. Gutz, Charles Simpson and W. M. Tobler.

BRADFORD AGAIN HEADS BAR CLUB

Outagamie County Bar association reelected its officers at its annual meeting at Hotel Appleton Saturday evening. They were P. S. Bradford president; Thomas H. Ryan, vice president; Heber H. Pelkey, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting followed a supper at 6:30. P. S. Bradford presided and the greater part of the session was taken up with a discussion of the changes in the various laws. It was decided to resume the monthly luncheons.

U. S. BANK SWAMPED WITH WAR STAMP REDEMPTIONS

Indulgence is asked of owners of 1918 war savings stamps by the local postoffice on account of delay in getting out redemption checks promptly.

With the aid of many extra clerks, the federal reserve bank of Chicago made every effort to avoid congestion, but the large volume of redemptions made this physically impossible. Checks are being mailed out daily and the situation is clearing up rapidly. A number of persons expecting redemption checks have been telephoning the postoffice, asking if the checks have arrived. The checks will, however, be sent direct to the owners.

FIGHT RATE GAIN ON FARM MACHINES

Wisconsin Men Attend Chicago Hearing To Protest Changed Freight Classes

Henry R. Trumbower, a member of the railroad commission attended a hearing at Chicago before the Western trunk Line Rate committee at which the Wisconsin carriers proposed to eliminate the commodity rates on agricultural implements and vehicles moving in carload lots and substitute therefor the regular class A distance rates which would result in an increase of from two to five cents a hundred pounds.

O. B. Jones, Richland Center, president of the Wisconsin Implement Dealers association; H. T. Lindsay, Milwaukee, and other manufacturers and dealers' representatives, appeared to protest against the change.

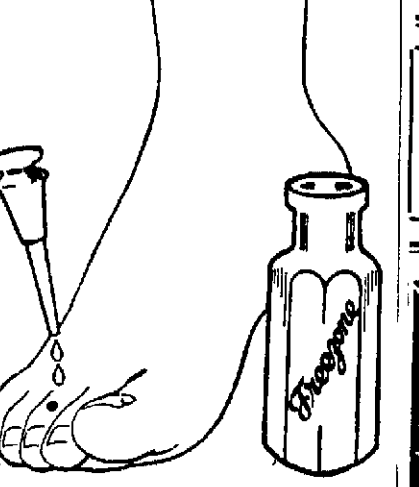

Mr. Jones called particular attention of the committee to the economic conditions under which the farmers are now operating and declared that the farmers are looking for relief from high railroad rates rather than for further increases.

Mr. Trumbower brought out the fact that class A rates, when fixed at their present level, were not intended to apply to agricultural implements. He also showed by comparison that the Wisconsin rates were not out of line with rates on similar shipments in adjoining states.

Those who attended the hearing believe that in the light of the facts presented the committee will not recommend the proposed changes in rates.

RAISE $9,546 FOR CHURCH BUILDING

Mount Olive Church Makes Substantial Reduction In Debt On New Edifice

A quarterly meeting of Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church was held at the conclusion of the morning services Sunday. Several new members were added to the enrollment. The treasurer's report showed that the total amount of the building fund raised during the year was $9,546.61, and the total amounts raised for all purposes in 1922 was $13,992.66. The church has on hand $1,700 with which it will pay a note of $1,500 on Jan. 15, which will reduce its indebtedness to $58,600 and leave a balance of $200.

FANS GO TO NEENAH FOR HOCKEY CLUB CONTEST

A number of winter sport enthusiasts of Appleton, disappointed with the condition of the local ice rinks Sunday, went to Neenah to witness the hockey game between the Green Bay and Oshkosh Hockey clubs, which resulted in a 4 to 4 score. The Sunday previous the two teams had played a 3 to 3 tie in Oshkosh. Neenah has organized a team that will play the Oshkosh Swatters in the Seavest city next Sunday. Interest in this form of diversion is said to be growing daily.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and light, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ASSESSORS TO HEAR OPPEGARD SPEECH

This income tax district will be represented at the income tax assessors' convention at Madison next week by Anton Oppegard, field man of the state tax commission, temporarily in charge of the local office. Mr. Oppegard is scheduled to give an address on the last day of the convention on "Observations from Field Work."

The meeting of assessors of incomes and field accountants will take place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. Governor Blaine will open the first session with an address on "How Can the Administration of the Income Tax Laws by Assessors be Improved?"

At the Wednesday afternoon session the feature will be a talk by A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, on "The Hirst Plan of Automobile and Gasoline Taxation." Thursday's and Friday's sessions will consist of talks and discussions by men prominent in the field of taxation. The principal social feature will be a dinner at 6:30 Friday evening.

The meeting is expected to draw a good attendance inasmuch as no meeting could be held last year on account of lack of funds, the legislature having failed to appropriate a sufficient amount for that purpose.

Joint C. of C.

Two more Appleton firms have joined the chamber of commerce within the last few days. They are J. C. Penney company, owners of the department store in the new insurance building, and Badger Printing company, one of the newer Appleton concerns.

OATMEAL BOILER MADE GOOD STILL

Anton Hoersch Is In Jail Awaiting Sentence For Making Moonshine

Among the various devices that can be converted into moonshine stills is an oatmeal boiler. It appears from the testimony of Anton Hoersch, 786 Kernan-ave, who was arrested late last week after his home had been raided by local authorities.

Yet the impromptu moonshine still held a quantity of mash equaling 120 gallons. A gallon and a half pint of moonshine whisky also were found in the raid.

Hoersch, when arraigned in municipal court, said he had used this instrument in which to cook oatmeal for his chickens. He is at present lodged in the county jail, awaiting sentence by Judge A. M. Spencer.

KAESTLE PRESIDENT OF ST. MARY H. N. SOCIETY

Joseph Kaestle was elected president of Holy Name society of St. Mary church at the annual meeting Sunday. The other officers are Chris Mullen, vice president; Lester Talhet, secretary; Walter Joyce, treasurer; Fred DeWitt, sergeant at arms. The annual report of the secretary was read. The enrolment was increased by addition of 15 members. The society approached holy communion at St. Mary church at 7:30.

THE GREAT CITY

Were you pressed to say which is the greatest city in the world, you could not give an intelligent reply. If you should say that Appleton is the greatest city, and mean what you would say, your motive would be loyalty to home. You could not maintain your position logically. In the first place, you would have to prove what greatness in a city is, and this you could not do without more thought.

London, the largest city in the world, is not necessarily the greatest. Yet, there is no doubt that size denotes some element of greatness in public or private spirit. If enterprise on a large scale typifies some claim to greatness, it must be conceded that the large city can be great, if it is not. But this may be the only quality of greatness which a community has, and save for size, a large city might be small in every respect.

A progressive town, with excellent living conditions and a loyal happy community spirit, might be far greater than a city many times its size. What it lacks in population, it would compensate for in other ways. Many large cities have well paved streets and a few blocks of imposing buildings. They have a few good parks. Visitors see only these attractive features. Off these smooth streets, outside the central retail district, these cities are ugly, dirty, unkempt. Shrewd visitors seldom are deceived by makeshift improvements. A little investigation soon shows whether a city is all that it seems; at first glance, to be. A good street here, a bad one there, and so on, and a city's true mettle is apparent. Visitors obtain reliable impressions in this manner.

The appearances of a city bear witness to the spirit of the community and to private enterprise. Either by its finished works, public and private, or projects under way, or both, a city is easily and quickly judged. The great city strives not only to be big, but to be beautiful, ordered, healthy and law-respectful. It aims to be vigorous in manufacture and trade, and powerful in finance, but it has cultural ideals also to which it aspires.

To be great a city should become better and more beautiful, as well as bigger. It should have live community ideals and loyal community patriotism. It should be interested intensely in the aesthetic, as well as the material. It should have aggressive individualism and community harmony and purpose. Which is the world's greatest city? How near does Appleton come to being a great city?

BOOZE SMUGGLING

This is from a recent Associated Press dispatch from Highlands, N. J., a little summer resort known poetically as "Bootleggers Haven."

Thousands upon thousands of cases of liquor taken from a fleet of 32 vessels—three steamers and 19 schooners—that lies off Ambrose channel light ship, are being landed in a hundred different places by fast bootlegger boats. A visit to any of the many snug harbors and boat landings unfolds bustling scenes in the business of running while the running is good.

Fleets of motor trucks and passenger cars are drawn alongside private boat house docks and piers. No one is making any bones about what is going on.

The town's restaurants at late hours are doing a rushing business, with patrons who frequently pause in their munching of hurried meals, to indulge in laughter over the "coups" they believe they have "put over" on enforcement agents.

Well known runners predicted that 35,000 cases of liquor would be brought in tonight—most of it destined for Manhattan, but some truck drivers have instructions to go to Jersey City, Newark, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

The rum runners make not the least effort to disguise their actions. The transfer from power boats to trucks and passenger cars goes on noisily. At the various landing places there is good natured laughter, burst of song and bantering. It is a lucrative day for everyone.

It hardly seems necessary to make any comment. The facts, vouched for officially by the news agency, speak for themselves. These facts somehow breed a sense of wonder in a normal American mind at this new element in American life. Here is smuggling on a scale probably never known before in American history, and smuggling of stuff outlawed, for presumably good and sufficient reasons, by constitutional amendment and federal statute.

The United States government never tolerated the wholesale smuggling of honest merchandise whose only offense was failure to pay an import duty. Is it possible that this double offense will continue to be tolerated?

YOUR DREAMS

Did you ever have a dream in which you toiled until exhausted, then waken in the morning all tired out? Rodger Dolan had such a dream the other night. It seemed that he was far up in Canada, in a logging crew, and that he chopped wood hour after hour. Quitting time finally came. And just as Dolan was curling up in his dreamland bunk, for a sound sleep, the alarm clock woke him up. "I wouldn't mind it so much," he said, "if I had any wood to show for my work." Dolan wants to know why he was as stiff and aching, when he awakened, as if he had really put in eight hours with an ax.

A plausible explanation of this might be that the feeling of fatigue originates in the brain, where dreams are staged, and that exhaustion is telegraphed from the brain cells to muscles and joints. Here, again, we encounter the terrific force, imagination, along the Coue line of reasoning.

We recall a baseball pitcher who dreamed that he pitched a thirty-inning game. Next day his arm was so sore and exhausted that he could not lift it. Obviously, since his arm had not gone through the gestures of pitching during sleep, its fatigue was imaginary. Or, at least, it originated in imagination, then the imaginary condition was translated into actual exhaustion of bodily cells. Conceding all this, it will appeal to most of us as a logical proposition, to endeavor to imagine that we are healthy and that our endocrine batteries are charged with plenty of reserve energy. The rule works backward the same as forward.

Some psychic cults believe that, in sleep, the spirit leaves the body and carries on a separate existence in some other "world," planet, dimension or earthly location, returning to the body at the moment of awakening. It would have to travel with lightning speed to get back to the sleeper awakened unexpectedly in the middle of the night. The bizarre is interesting, whether we agree or not.

In the last analysis, our state of mind, (imagination) dominates our actions. You saw this illustrated in the World war. People had to be worked up to a warlike state of mind before they were ready to face the shrapnel and bayonets. And there cannot be real peace in Europe until the people get into a peaceful state of mind—freed of hatreds, rivalries and stubborn refusal to admit the truth.

THE UNIT OF OUTPUT

A new kind of labor organization has just been formed among railway employees in the Big Four shops at Beach Grove, Indiana. According to reports, the organization is not for profit and is unique in that it makes the unit of output instead of the unit of time the basis for compensation.

Details of the scheme are lacking, but it has a promising sound. Output must needs be included in any labor plan if it is to operate honestly and successfully for any long-continued period. If the problem is so handled in this organization that every employee is stimulated to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, and yet so controlled that exploitation is prevented, it should encourage individual initiative and yet work for the good of both employees and employers. If the plan succeeds in this instance, it will set the mark for more associations of the same kind.

A WEAK HANDSHAKE

The Prince of Wales may make a good king of England, but he wouldn't have got very far in American politics. He has fallen down in the very first requirement. After a mere million or so of handshakes, his right hand is swollen, inflamed and in bandages. So poor a handshaker would do well to reach a state legislature in this republic. The office of congressman would be several billion handshakes above his capacity. What chance would such a fragile slipper have in competition with such iron paws, say, as those of W. J. Bryan and Will Hays? None.

The handshake is the very keystone of government in America. Ask a senator why he is for the ship subsidy, and what does he do? Grasps you firmly by the hand. Inquire of a candidate what constructive program he has, if any, and what is his reply? A warm handshake. Demand of a public official that he introduce, or even support, some measure in the common interest, and what do you get? A hearty grip. The handshake is everything here. It is the solution of all economic, social, political and ecclesiastical problems. It is the Alpha, the Omega and the context. It's "the works." Wales is mighty lucky he was born to the purple in England, instead of having to handshake his way up in a democracy.—ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE IMPAIRED HEART

An individual who has heart disease is likely to succumb, finally, to some other disease. For the greater part, the popular notion that heart disease brings swift death without warning is based upon the fine old custom of untrained "coroners" who assumed the deceased had heart failure if they discovered no indications that he had been poisoned or kicked to death.

In a large share of all cases of valvular disease, "leakage" as it is popularly called, the distortion of the heart valve is an insidious process of which the victim is unaware. It occurs in the course of or shortly after such common illnesses as tonsillitis and ordinary sore throat for which the sufferer may not even remain in bed. The germs responsible for the throat condition, usually of the strain or type called streptococci or perhaps pneumococci, find their way to the lining of the heart and lodge upon one of the valves, setting up an inflammatory reaction there. The inflammatory reaction is called endocarditis (inflammation of heart lining). It may produce such slight symptoms or signs that the trouble will be overlooked, unless the physician is alert. But the scar following the inflammation distorts the delicate heart valves so that they do not close as perfectly as they formerly did, and from that time there is more or less backflow of blood with each heart beat. The heart, therefore, must do greater work constantly, in order to maintain the circulation, it must pump enough blood to compensate for the back flow or "leakage." The heart must therefore enlarge, develop greater muscular power, to accomplish this heavier work, if the individual is to do the same amount of work or play he formerly did.

Now there are many other things beside valvular damage that may impair the heart. The heart muscle is sometimes damaged by reason of a faulty blood supply to the muscle through thickened or narrowed arteries, or by poisons in the blood supply such as alcohol, diphtheria toxin, pneumonia toxin, so that the valves are all clear enough, no carbon accumulations or anything, but the compression is weak.

Again, the heart muscle may be enlarged and highly developed, as by athletic training, and then badly injured by excessive strain, as in the immature youth who attempts to "train" all in a few short weeks for such a severe test as a football game or a marathon race, and a kind of sudden stretching or giving of the heart muscle occurs. Doctors call this dilation of the heart. From such an injury the victim recovers slowly if at all. Often he carries a handicap throughout life—the heart remains impaired.

An impaired heart does not manifest itself by pain or by palpitation, as a rule. The victim rather finds himself physically and mentally less efficient than formerly. He is incapable of doing his accustomed work or play as well as he should, and he tires more quickly. That is all. It is enough to suggest to any sensible person that medical attention is needed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Effect Of Cancer Propaganda

I enclose a clipping from an article on cancer which appeared in a newspaper. It states that there is no pain with the early stage of cancer. If that is true, how can one tell when one is developing an internal cancer, say of the stomach or of the womb?—Mrs. S. P. E.

Answer—Sometimes cancer is painful in its early stages. One can't tell—one must go to the physician for examination when any such question of doubt arises. Wondering or worrying about it is a mighty unhealthful business.

Stigmatism

I went to have glasses fitted because I had so much headache. The doctor told me I had stigmatism of the eye. I looked it up in the dictionary but can't understand what it means.—Mrs. S. W.

Answer—It means that rays of light are brought to a point on the retina as they should be. In other words you have perfect vision.

A Battle Of Odors

Is it injurious to children's health to burn Egyptian deodorizer and aroform candles for disagreeable odors in the home?—Mrs. W. J.

Answer—No, but it is better to open the windows and ventilate than to try to kill one odor with another.

Sterilizing a Thermometer

How sterilize a clinical thermometer so that it may safely be used by any member of the family?—An Old Maid.

Answer—It may be kept standing in a strong disinfectant solution, such as 5 per cent phenol (carbolic acid) solution or 10 per cent formalin solution or 20 per cent compound cresol solution, and carefully rinsed with cold water before using. Ordinarily a careful washing of a clinical thermometer with soap and water makes it safe to use.

Quinine And Deafness

Will quinine hurt one if taken often? Some say it will make you deaf.—T. H.

Answer—Quinine should not be taken at all, unless under medical direction. Sometimes it causes deafness.

Raising Sweet Potatoes
Beset With Difficulties

BY WILBUR SPAILLESS

Progress in mechanical science of the past few years has been so great and so spectacular that development in plant life is sometimes overlooked. This is certainly true as regards the sweet potato. The food value of this plant has long been recognized. But because of the tendency of the tuber to decay and the disagreeable flavor resulting from rough handling, the sweet potato has not won a place for itself except for a short time in the early winter. Science has shown how, to correct these faults and the sweet potato is now winning the favor it deserves.

The home of the sweet potato is in the southern states and that is where it is found at its best. It is one of the chief articles of food in that country and is destined to become much more commonly used in the north. The soil and climatic conditions of the South are exactly suited to the production of a perfect sweet potato.

The plant is propagated by planting the sweet potato itself in hot beds under a cover of four or five inches of dirt, several plants springing up from each eye. A bushel of seed will produce on the average 2,500 slips, which may be taken off in three pullings of approximately 1,000 each in the first and second pullings and 500 in the third. The plants are set out in rows, generally ridged and about 4 feet apart with 8,000 to 10,000 slips to the acre. In a few weeks the ends of the vines may be cut off and set out as plants. Ordinary yields run from 100 to 200 bushels to the acre. The best fertilizer is a mixture of phosphate and cottonseed meal.

The vines resemble those of the morning glory and trail along the ground, radiating out from the plant in all directions for several feet, so that soon after cultivation ceases there is a heavy carpet of dark green foliage which rises from a network of woven and interwoven vines.

At the present time three most common varieties of southern sweets are the Triumph, the Nancy Hall and the Porto Rico. The Triumph variety is a white potato, rather dry and only fairly sweet. The Nancy Hall is the popular potato, both north and south. It is of a rich, golden color, very sweet and delicious. The Porto Rico is a slightly purple color and is extremely sweet, so much so that baking a slip often coaxes out into the pan, as from a baked apple. This variety is very popular in the south and is fast gaining favor in the north.

The sweet potato never grows to maturity in any section of the country where it is produced commercially. It is stated upon good authority that in southern Florida where the vines were protected from frost, a sweet potato in seven years growth was produced that was the size of a barrel. The problem has long been then, how can this immature potato be made to keep. By a process recently perfected by the agricultural colleges of the south, that problem has been solved. If potatoes are harvested without being bruised or receiving mechanical injury, they may be placed in a dry kiln for a period of ten days or two weeks and dry hot air passed among them in such a way that the skin is dried and toughened and the potato itself encased in a coat of sugar, which preserves it. Potatoes so cured can be shipped anywhere and will keep as well as the ordinary Irish potato. In fact the potato becomes more delicious as the season advances.

The sweet potato is more susceptible to disease than the Irish potato. The greatest of care has to be taken to prevent the loss of the crop. Disease may, and often does spread rapidly among the potatoes in storage and the entire crop is sometimes lost in this way. The state of Mississippi has adopted a method of certification by which, if upon proper inspection, a grower's crop is found to be free from disease, he may receive a certificate of health for his sweet potatoes and they may be labeled "certified stock." To guard against loss by disease, the best growers of southern sweet potatoes, plant seed in clean or disinfected hot beds, after treating the seed in vats and set plants out in clean fields only.

It has been found best to handle sweet potatoes in ventilated crates from the time they are dug in the patch till they reach the ultimate consumer. At digging time they are picked up into the crates as gently as though they were eggs, transported to the dry kiln with great care, cured and shipped in the same container. This way of handling eliminates the bruises that result from jumble packing or from storing in deep piles in the bin.

Being cured in crates reduces the danger of contamination in case diseased stock happens to get into the drying house. Three things are absolutely essential to the production of perfect sweet potatoes. First, they must be free from disease; second, they must be free from bruises; and third, they must be properly cured.

Radium Bath To Get Green Hair

(From The Detroit News.)

A mighty profitable piece of property in these days is a radium well—the term referring to water that contains the precious "emanations" of that wonderful mineral.

People are flocking to the Isle of Pines (south of Cuba) for "dips." On that island, at Santa Fe, are four radium wells that are alleged to be very remarkable. Not far away, at Santa Barbara, are eight more.

The wells are not much to look at—mere holes dug in the ground and surrounded by ring fences. There are hotels, which charge only $50 a day for room and board, with dips thrown in. Outsiders may have the treatment at $5 per dip.

The method is simple and rather primitive. A piece of canvass is spread on the ground; the patient sits in the middle of it, and two muscular men lift the ends. Lowered into the water hole one is immersed for a moment or two only.

More would be too much. The heart might be dangerously affected. Even after so brief a dip the body of a person thus immersed is almost as red as a boiled lobster. It gives one a notion of the strength of the emanations.

Women who take the dips are warned to avoid wetting their heads. The radium water turns the hair green.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How does the Boston bull compare in size with the English bulldog? W. T. II.

A. The modern Boston bull is about half the size of the English bull.

Q. We are planning to go South this winter. Will freezing spoil the canned fruit left in our cellar? N. G. S.

A. The United States Bureau of Chemistry says: "Most canned goods will stand a little freezing without appreciable change. Repeated freezing and thawing causes the foods to become flabby and gives a flat taste. Such a change, however, does not alter the wholesomeness or food value of the material, but it may change the texture, appearance and palatability. The actual damage varies with the different kinds of canned foods and in general is somewhat similar to damage done by freezing the same food in the fresh condition."

Q. Who was the first King of England who was chosen entirely by Parliament? H. P.

A. Hilleck says that Henry IV was the first English King to owe his crown entirely to Parliament. He was a descendant of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, one of the younger sons of Edward III, and therefore not in the direct line of succession.

Q. How much territory did the United States acquire as a result of the Mexican war? T. A. A.

A. A total of 522,568 square miles of territory—an empire four times as large as Great Britain—was acquired by the United States through the war with Mexico.

Q. What prison was known as the English Bastille? G. K.

A. This name was applied to Cold-bath Fields Prison, a London jail erected in the times of James I. It became inadequate and was closed in 1835.

Q. Is there a certain time that gold coins are declared too worn for use? D. N.

A. Coinage legislation determines the point at which the coin loses its validity. In the United States, gold coins which have lost more than one-half of one per cent of their weight in 20 years from date of issue, or proportional amounts in shorter periods, are legal tender by weight only.

Q. How much sleep should a schoolboy of 15 get? E. W. J.

A. The Public Health Service says that boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 16 require 10 hours of sleep.

Q. Has Canada a good wheat crop this year? R. A. D.

A. The Canadian News Letter says that Canada's wheat crop this year is large enough to supply 35,339,726 people with one loaf of bread per diem for a whole year.

Statistics show that 343,000,000 bushels of wheat are equivalent to 20,580,000 pounds of wheat, or 10,290,000 tons, or 73,500,000 barrels of flour, which could be made into 12,862,500,000 loaves of bread, weighing 24 ounces each.

Q. Can a husband demand the delivery of mail addressed to his wife? B. A. S.

A. Neither husband nor wife can control the delivery of mail addressed to the other against the wishes of the one to whom it is addressed. In the absence of instructions to the contrary, the wife's letters will be placed with the husband's mail unless they be known to live separately.

Q. Why are some cranberries white? G. R. Y.

A. White cranberries are a result of the absence of sun and light on the berry. When cooked the skin remains white but the juice is pink.

Q. What day of the week did Columbus set sail and what day did he land?

A. On the 3rd day of August, 1492, when Columbus embarked upon his first voyage to the Western Hemisphere, fell upon a Friday. The 12th of October when land was found was also Friday.

Club Will Arrange For Child Clinic

Next Examination Of Babies Jan. 23 To Be In Charge Of Dr. Horner-Rivers

All women of the health department of Appleton Women's club are requested to be at a special meeting at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the clubroom. Plans will be made for the clinic Tuesday, Jan. 23, to be conducted by Dr. Blanche Horner-Rivers. All mothers may bring infants and children of pre-school age for examination.

Dr. Horner-Rivers has given more than 4,500 children in this state thorough examinations and recommended corrective treatment. She found that out of that large number only 619 could be credited with normal development. The physician who will have charge of the clinic this time has had a wide experience in public health work in the rural districts in Mississippi.

Mrs. H. W. Russell is chairman of the health department of Appleton Women's club and has charge of the arrangements for the clinic. Any one wishing special information concerning the clinic may telephone Mrs. Russell. No charge is made for the examination.

ANOTHER SINGER

GEORGE Mechelson who plays the part of Gaspard in the Chinese of Normandy, possesses one of the best baritone voices ever developed at the Conservatory. His voice is of wide range and excellent quality and he sings with unusual sympathy and appreciation of the meaning of the text. In the part of Gaspard he has splendid opportunity to exercise his powers of character delineation as well as sing. The Chinese of Normandy will be sung in Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Negro Music Is Presented At Club Meeting

The music department of Appleton Women's club studied Negro music at its meeting in the club rooms at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The subject was appropriate as Saturday was the anniversary of the death of Stephen Foster, the author of many southern melodies.

The program given included: "Old Black Joe"..... Double Quartet "Paper—Is Negro Song the Basis of American Folk Songs?"..... Mrs. Nita Brinkley "Banjo Song"..... Sidney Homer "Honey Child's"..... Carrie Adams Mrs. W. H. Dean

LODGE NEWS

The district convention of Rebekah lodge will be held Wednesday afternoon with a regular lodge meeting in the evening for the local members and their guests. The delegates will include representatives from about eight lodges in the district.

The Fraternal Reserve association will hold an old times party following its business session Tuesday evening. The program will include old-fashioned dances and games.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Ladies' Missionary society of First English Lutheran church will meet at 2:15 Thursday afternoon in parish hall. A social hour will follow the discussion of the topic, "Prayer and Missions."

The Kings Heralds met Saturday afternoon in the parlors of First Methodist church for a "dinner-party" meeting. Each girl wrote a letter to Miss Grace McClurg, a missionary at Hinghua, China. At the next meeting, Jan. 27 the girls will pick an Easter basket for Miss McClurg, as it takes two months for a package to reach her.

Mrs. Frank Schneider will entertain the Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church at her home, 526 Alton-st., Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. E. W. Wright will speak.

The side that lost in the membership drive of the Young People's society of St. Paul church will entertain the winners at St. Paul school hall Wednesday evening. A program will be rendered and refreshments will be served. Plans will be completed for a sleighride Wednesday, Jan. 24.

SUNDAY COZEY LARGEST EVER HELD AT CLUBROOMS

Then cozy at which Mrs. Frank Schneider talked at Appleton Women's clubroom on Sunday afternoon was attended by 35 girls. This was the second largest cozezy this year and was second only to the meeting at which Zona Gale, authoress, was discussed. Mrs. Schneider told the story of Sir Galahad using the pictures from the Boston library which have been loaned to the Appleton public library.

Miss Linda Hummel had charge of the supper at which 32 were served. This is the largest number of girls to remain at the luncheon on Sunday evening.

William Steinenberg returned Sunday night from Milwaukee, where he spent several days on business.

Symphony Group To Play Music For 'Normandy'

One of the things which will add greatly to the presentation of the comic opera "Chimes of Normandy" at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Wednesday and Thursday evenings is the small symphony orchestra under the direction of Percy Fullinwider. The orchestra includes the members of the Fullinwider String quartet, a number of the advanced students from Prof. Fullinwider's studio, three professional musicians from Green Bay and five from Appleton.

Good seats still are available for both Wednesday and Thursday evenings. This is the first comic opera production which has been put on in Appleton by amateurs and many people have not yet realized the possibilities which "Chimes of Normandy" presents for entertainment and fun.

These scenes for the play has been made especially for this occasion and is truly remarkable according to those who have seen it. The last rehearsals will take place on Tuesday evening. It is said that the chorus and solo work for the opera is excellent.

CLUB MEETINGS

Mrs. Charles Marston entertained members of the Travel club at her home, 650 Park-ave, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Young had charge of the program.

The Wednesday club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Conker, Kimball-st., Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. L. C. Sleeper will have charge of the program which is on "Contemporary Sociological Poets."

The classes of Appleton Women's club which are scheduled for Tuesday evening will meet as usual. The dance given by the sports council at Armory G on Tuesday evening will not interfere with the regular program.

The City Pan Hellenic organization will meet at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Ruth Saecker, 726 Union-st. Miss Mary Louise Brown, dean of women of Lawrence college, will be the speaker and will tell of the sorority problems which are biggest at Lawrence. The organization is composed of alumnae members of national sororities and of those local sororities which exist at Lawrence college.

The girl scout committee and the camp fire girls committee will have a joint supper meeting at Appleton Women's clubroom at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. Plans for the summer activities of the girl scouts and camp fire girls will be discussed.

Camp fire guardians will have a meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening at the First ward school.

John Stecker was elected president of the Franklin Social club at its meeting Friday evening. Other officers named are: Secretary-treasurer, Gustave Kranzsch; floor manager, Henry DeFerman; social chairman, Mrs. Gustave Kranzsch.

The Lions club held its weekly luncheon in the French room of Conway hotel Monday noon. The speakers were Louis Bonini, Lee C. Rasey and Dr. Earl Baker.

The HLY club will hold a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Several important matters will be considered.

Mrs. H. C. Humphrey entertained the Clio club at her home, 656 Union-st., Monday evening. Mrs. C. D. Thomas had charge of the program.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonials about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE W. BUNCHALL, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Free upon Request Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free, upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information that every woman should have.

TO SUGGEST IMPROVING DORMITORY SOCIABILITY

A supper for the dormitory men of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the assembly room at 6:30 Thursday evening, Jan. 18. It will be followed by an informal program. Each dormitory man will be asked his opinion as to how the social life of the dormitory can be improved with a view of the adoption of suggestions.

DISTRICT OFFICERS TO INITIATE ELKS

Large Class To Be Received Next Week—Need 30 Bowling Teams

Edward M. Miller of Marinette, district deputy of Elk lodge, will be here Wednesday, Jan. 24, to initiate a large class of candidates for membership in the local lodge. The meeting was scheduled for this week but was postponed because of the deputy's inability to come.

This will be one of the largest initiations ever conducted by the lodge, and elaborate preparations therefore are being made under direction of Daniel P. Steinhilber, exalted ruler. The newly organized Elk orchestra is rehearsing a musical program.

Officers and committeemen are working on organization of local bowling teams for state tournament starting here Jan. 27. Thirty-five teams have been formed, but the club seeks 20 more, or 55 in all. Members who have not been seen are expected to hand their names to James Balliet, bowling secretary, or members of the bowling committee.

J. C. Ryan was a Green Bay visitor Monday.

Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

KIMBERLY HOME RUINED BY FIRE; WATER IS LACKING

Village and Mill Departments Try To Save Residence Of Joseph Poppe

Special to Post-Crescent.
Kimberly—Fire caused by an over-heated furnace destroyed the home of Joseph Poppe, Sidney-st., at 930 Monday morning. Combined efforts of the village fire department and the Kimberly-Clark company fire force could not check the flames. Lack of a city water system was blamed. Several cisterns in the neighborhood were emptied. The fire started in the walls around the furnace while Mrs. Poppe was at the home of a neighbor. Persons living next door saw the smoke and spread the alarm. Part of the furniture was saved, but the interior of the home was ruined and by means of the roof burned away. The home had been remodeled last summer and the furnace was a new one installed at that time. Mr. Poppe carried no insurance on building or furniture.

NEW SCHOOL READY FOR ONEIDA PUPILS

Structure Costing $4,500 Is Opened—Will Be Named High View

Oneida—The new school building in District No. 6, town of Norbert, has been completed and the sessions began Monday. There are about 40 pupils to be accommodated and the building will take care of them very well. The building is one room and basement, frame construction and cost $4,500. It is located one mile east of the Episcopal church in Oneida and has been named High View. Peter Franchini and John Brockman of DeLore were the contractors.

Mrs. Joseph Skenderoff left Saturday to spend two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Steven Skenderoff in Neenah. District No. 4 school had gas lamps installed in the rooms on Friday. Joint District No. 1 school gave a box social and dance at the school Friday evening. It was well attended. The entertainment that was to be given at the Methodist church Thursday evening was postponed until Tuesday on account of the bad roads and the storm.

PARTIES ARE HELD BY LITTLE CHUTE FAMILIES

Little Chute—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Penning, Fairview Heights, entertained a few friends at their home Sunday evening. Cards were played. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Coenen and family, Martin Hermanson, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kempen and John Hermanson.

FREDERICK MEYER IS BURIED AT MAPLE CREEK

New London—Frederick Meyer, 56, whose death occurred Sunday at Maple Creek, is to be buried Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Brenner conducting the services at the daughter's home in Maple Creek.

Sunday was the beginning of the fourth year of the Rev. William H. Ziegler's pastorate in the Congregational church. An unusually large congregation was present. The sermon was on "The Master Key—Experience."

A chimney fire on East Cook-st., scalded out the fire department Sunday afternoon. The damage was slight.

RADIO PATTERN

The old time amateur is giving place to the new.

The spark, once the only means of radio transmission, is gradually being eliminated and replaced by the vacuum tube and C. W., or continuous wave.

It was only a year ago, when spark transmitters were still at the height of their glory, when they still boasted of their superiority in numbers, at least over continuous wave transmitters. But figures compiled by the American Radio Relay League show the death knell of spark transmission has been sounded.

These figures are based on the number of messages handled by the amateur members of this organization. Last January, for instance, of 30,000 messages handled, 22,500 went through the spark stations, and only 7,500 through C. W. But since then, the spark has declined and C. W. picked up. So that, by October, 1922, of 28,000 messages handled, only 6,000 were spark station products and 22,000 C. W.

The reason for the spark's decline is simply it is not as effective as the C. W. set. It has been notorious for its interference with local broadcast reception. It has set up oscillations, even on a low wave length, whose squeal would drown out a broadcast concert on a higher wavelength for those radio listeners living in the spark's neighborhood.

On the other hand C. W., or vacuum tube sets, can be operated on less power, can be tuned to a finer degree than spark, and makes much less interference for neighborhood receivers.

RADIO IN GERMANY

German radio fans have to pay a license fee for both receiving and transmitting sets. And this fee—for receiving—ranges from 100 to 1500 marks a month! That's why amateur radio in Germany is almost nonexistent.

SPIDER INTERFERES

A Seattle broadcasting station discovered an unusual case of interference with its messages, when a spider's web was discovered at the top of an aerial pole. It was covered with carbon from soft coal, which caused short circuiting of the transmitted radio waves.

DEAF HEAR RADIO

Persons who are even totally deaf may have the chance of listening to radio-broadcasts through an invention devised by Carol Land, instructor at the California School for the Deaf at Berkeley, Cal. Land's instrument, he says, converts sound caught by radio into vibrations which may be felt by a deaf mule, just as the sounds are heard by others.

Dancing, Hotel Appleton. Every Wednesday. Gib Horst.

OPEN PARSONAGE WITH CELEBRATION

Methodist Churches Of Seymour And Black Creek Join In Program

Special to Post-Crescent.
Seymour—There was a large attendance at the opening of the new Methodist parsonage Friday night. Guides took members and visitors through the building as the first part of the program in groups. The following program then was given at the church auditorium: Piano selection, Miss Eleanor Tubbs. Song, "My Mother Grinding Coffee." George Lester and Guy Miracle. Facts and Figures...E. E. Smith. Best Parsonage in the District...Rev. J. H. Tippet. Fraternal greetings...Rev. Welles, pastor of Congregational church. "Requirements in Building a Parsonage"...L. H. Tubbs. "The House We Live In"...Rev. G. W. Lester. Everyone was surprised at the improved appearance of the parsonage. It has all modern equipment. Dr. J. J. Laird of Black Creek brought a large delegation from Black Creek Methodist church to attend the opening of the new parsonage Friday night.

Dr. J. H. Tippet, superintendent of Appleton district, held the first quarterly conference of the Seymour-Black Creek Methodist churches at the Methodist church of Seymour Friday evening, Jan. 12. A large number of church stewards and trustees were present. Reports showed all departments doing well at both places. Vacancies caused by the death of C. N. Daniels and Albert Sturm were filled by electing L. A. Hansen and Nelson Uttomark trustee and steward. Dr. Tippet congratulated the churches for the splendid new parsonage which has just been completed.

Miss Alice Hillegas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillegas, has returned home from Oakshoe normal school and submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Deaconess hospital, Green Bay, Saturday.

ELECTED SECRETARY

Dr. R. C. Finkle of this city has been elected secretary of Outagamie Limestone company, Black Creek, to take the place of E. H. Schultz. Mr. Schultz will devote his time to field work for the company.

Woodland schoolhouse, two miles north of the city came near burning up Wednesday of last week from a fire caused by a defective foot warmer. Slight damage was done. The fire was discovered under the floor between the joists. Neighbors were called in and extinguished the blaze.

Edward Thiel, a farmer living four miles northwest of city, had a slice taken off his hand and a finger on his right hand while poking leaves out of a feed enter while it was in operation.

BLAME INSTABILITY FOR HIGH COAL PRICES

Washington—Instability in the bituminous coal mining industry is the fundamental cause of high prices and the fuel shortage which has menaced the American public repeatedly in recent years, the United States Coal commission held Monday. In a preliminary report of its fact finding investigation laid before congress.

Labor troubles, transportation difficulties, and over development of the industry in mines and manpower to a point where it is much larger than necessary to supply public demand for its product are three assigned as among the primary causes for the condition. The exact bearing which these have upon the existing situation, the commission said, it intended to study in its further inquiry.

GOING SOME!

A single pair of rats, breeding uninterruptedly and without deaths, would at the end of three years, be increased to 553,709,482 individual rats.

This is a startling statement, but it is made on authority of the scientists of the United States Biological Survey. The common mouse increases almost as fast as the rat. These facts show why it is necessary to trap and kill rats and mice to keep them from overrunning the house.

If left to themselves, they multiply, destroy food, and other valuable property, and spread disease. These facts show why it is necessary to trap and kill rats and mice to keep them from overrunning the house.

Aged Veteran And Wife Are 50 Years Wed

New London—An occasion which brought together about 60 people Saturday afternoon was a family reunion in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stern, Sr. The bridegroom came to this country in 1851. He fought in the Civil war and has the honor of having his name on the Vicksburg monument. The couple was married in 1872, the bride's maiden name being Amelia Eliegel.

The seven sons, five of whom live in New London, and the only daughter Dorothy, were present. One son, Arnold came from Post Hill, Idaho, and another son, Robert, from Sayner. This is the first time the family has been together in 18 years. Twenty-two grand children also were present. In lieu of another wedding ceremony, the bride insisting that "once is enough" the Rev. Walter Sharritl spoke on "The Blessedness of Marriage."

6,647 DO U. OF W. HOME STUDY WORK

Popularity Of Extension Work Is Growing Annually, Figures Indicate

Correspondence study courses and regular classes conducted by the University of Wisconsin extension division are increasing in popularity. During the last two years 258 extension classes were conducted in various cities, with a total enrollment of 6,647 students. Of this number 117 classes, with an enrollment of 3,820, were conducted in Milwaukee. One hundred ten classes with an enrollment of 2,827 were conducted in other cities and towns of the Badger state.

A total of 79,588 has enrolled in the correspondence study courses from 1906 when the service was organized up to July 1, 1922 according to figures compiled in the office of Dean L. E. Teicher. From June 30, 1922 there have been carried forward into the new year about 17,464 active registrations of which 12,237 are men and 5,227 women students.

Enrollments in various branches are as follows: In business and commercial vocational studies last year there were 6,855 students, or 23.1 per cent of the whole; in engineering and industrial studies, there were 7,749 students, or 26.3 per cent of the whole; in social sciences, 19,122, there were 5,720 students, or 19.1 per cent of the entire number of enrollments; in English, there were 3,250 students, or 11 per cent of the whole; in mathematics, 19,122, there were 3,446, or 11.7 per cent of the whole number; in physical sciences, there were 877 students, or 2.9 per cent of the whole; in foreign languages, there were 1,432 students, or 4.8 per cent of the entire enrollment.

HELP RID STATE OF WORTHLESS SEED

Dealers Here Cooperating With Norgord To Maintain Standards

Seed dealers here are cooperating with U. P. Norgord, commissioner of agriculture at Madison, in eliminating from the market seeds that are not conducive to good crops. Some are marketing only seeds which fully meet state standards.

Mr. Norgord has issued a report for the state in which he says that out of 28,766 samples tested during the past eight years, only 793 have been condemned by the state department. Seeds of poor quality, low vitality and those containing noxious weeds are not allowed to be sold on the Wisconsin market.

"Noxious weeds are a distinct menace to the prosperity of Wisconsin," declares Mr. Norgord. "For years they have been neglected until they have taken possession of many farms and spread until they threaten to overrun the state unless drastic measures are taken to prevent their spread. The program of the department is one of education. Neglect on the part of the farmers has been due to lack of appreciation of the seriousness of the problem and also of the best method of control."

According to Mr. Norgord, farmers have saved thousands of dollars annually through the inspection of commercial feeds and fertilizers by the department of agriculture. Chemistry is the only means of determining the value of seeds and fertilizers. Mr. Norgord points out that by making it necessary for the manufacturer

SCHOOL VANDALISM NOT REPORTED TO SHERIFF

Complaints of vandalism perpetrated at Triangle school at the intersection of the Dale and Horton villages have not been brought to the attention of Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke. Reports emanating from that locality had it that considerable damage was done recently to the furnishing of that school and that a bloodhound had been used in attempt to track the marauders. It was presumed that the vandals had left and entered their cutter over the roof of the building and by means of a nearby tree.

Simple Menus Replace The Old Time Dinners Of Half Dozen Courses

Noted Minneapolis Chef Sets Forth His Ideas On Modern Way Of Catering To Empty Feeling In Stomach

Elaborate menus are giving way before simple menus. Elaborate table decorations are being supplanted by table decorations less pretentious. The old time jumble of knives and forks has been thinned out considerably. And, consequently to these and other reforms in the method of serving meals at the hotel, restaurant or club of today a dinner, even a formal banquet, has been changed from a job to a joy.

There set forth are the words of "Jim" McClure in The Minneapolis Journal, superintendent of service at the Minneapolis Athletic club, who has been 22 years in the dining service of that club, has served as many as 2,460 meals in a single day, and has followed his present occupation since he was a lad.

FOUR-COURSE DINNER RULES
The four-course dinner sans fish, hors d'oeuvre, cheese and crackers and sagolet is the regnant club meal of 1922 whether in Minneapolis or New York, according to Mr. McClure, who says also that the meal, since wartime, has been reduced to normal and palatable amounts so wisely that a luncheon can be of practically the same proportions as a dinner without anything being infringed upon, even the appetite.

"People are eating so intelligently now that there is no reason to suppose they can't tell whether it is noon or night. That's about the only difference between luncheon and dinner," he said.

Yet, illuminating as these revelations are, they are but the wind-blown spray from the vast fountain of knowledge concerning things epicurean, culinary, plus a bunch of other pet adjectives, which Mr. McClure has assembled in his long years of experience.

BORN IN BRITISH INDIA
When one considers that he was born in Lucknow, British India, where his father served in the famous siege, that he began to learn service as a boy, working in London at such clubs as the Prince of Wales, the Marlborough, and the Pall Mall, and that his Minneapolis experience has included practically all of the worth while restaurants, 17 years at the Minneapolis club and four years at the Athletic club, one should be ready to take "Jim's" advice and take it quickly.

Jim McClure believes that the old fashioned seven-course dinner of pre-war times was a hardship rather than a pleasure and that the public enjoys the simplicity of the "sensible" small dinner of today. He believes also in the present day policy of spending less on flowers for the table, and holds that nourishment ample for all bodily cravings is contained in the four-course meal. Of the latter he gave the following ideal example:

Fruit cocktail or melon.
Cold tomato bouillon or jellied consommé.
Breast of chicken under glass or filet mignon, Bernalise.
Hearts of palm salad, special dressing.

Dessert. Coffee.
Compare this, he advised with the old time ponderous grubstake, described on the menu something like this:

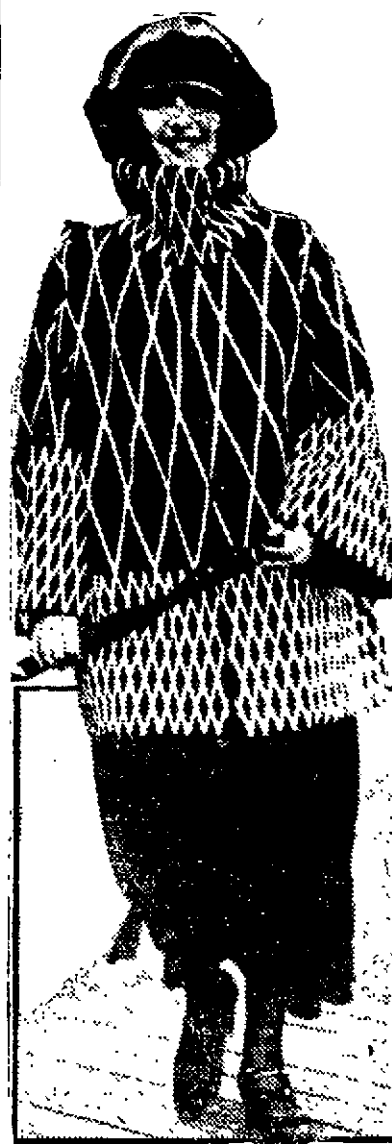

Hors d'oeuvres.
Clear turtle soup Anglaise.
Stuffed celery. Cheese wafers.
Filet of cold, vin blanc.
Filet of lamb, beef tenderloin.
Mushrooms.
Sherbet.

"Anyone can see the difference," said McClure, "and almost everyone could feel the difference in comfort after arising from the table, often before."

The menu given for the four-course dinner is one for hot weather, he explained, but the principal difference in cold weather would be in the soup and possibly in the dessert. For so many people live indoors in the winter nowadays that they crave cold food then nearly as much as during warm weather.

Hearts of palms, he said, are the most popular salad now, although lambroo roots are coming more into favor. Persimmons, known also as prickly or cactus pears, are another salad delicacy that is finding favor he said. They are served with the same special dressing as hearts of palm, currant jelly, oil, and vinegar, and a touch of lemon juice. But, he warned, beware the persimmon when it is green. Caruso ate one once, and it picked his mouth so badly that he had to whistle all his best parts for more than a week.

Adventures Of The Twins

Twins Get Dream

The Twins wished themselves up to the Dream Star where Eena Meena, the Magician, was boiling dreams.

"Is Light Fingers here?" asked Nancy, sticking in her head.

"No," answered Eena Meena. "What's he done now?"

"He's stolen the Fairy Queen's automobile," answered Nick, "and we are hunting for it."

"Hm!" said Eena Meena, raising his bushy eyebrows in surprise. "Then I bet you a dollar some of my rivals have it. Either Twelve Toes or Tricky Trixie, and that won't do at all. Just let me think. I'll have to help you get it."

So Eena Meena thought and thought.

"Say," he said finally, "I'm making a dream here that's a dandy. I'll tell you what it is. It's a dream about a railroad train. If Light Fingers dreams this he'll think it's true, and he'll jump out so he won't get wrecked, and the magic automobile will stop. Then you children can hop in and take it back to the Fairy Queen."

"That's a fine idea," said Nick. "Is the dream nearly done?"

"Yes," said Eena Meena. "Almost. I just have to shake in a little soot and a little black smoke and a few nails into the kettle. There you are! It's all ready!"

He put the dream into a toad-skin bag and handed it to the little boy.

"Don't lose it," advised the Magician, "and don't break the bag. If you do, you and Nancy will dream the dream yourselves and that would be dreadful."

"Where do you think we'll find Light Fingers?" asked Nancy.

"On the Milky Way," said Eena Meena. "It's fine for automobiles, and he's sure to be there. Hide yourselves behind the Dreamland Tree, and he'll come along by and by."

Fate Of Fatty Depends On The Picture Lovers

BY JAMES W. DEAN

Special To Post-Crescent

New York—What's all this fuss about Fatty Arbuckle, anyway? Arbuckle never was banned from the screen by Will Hays. Will Hays has not restored him to the screen.

The day after Arbuckle was acquitted, nine months ago, Hays advised against the immediate release of three pictures that the comedian had completed before his trial.

This was generally interpreted as a complete ban against Arbuckle, that Hays was acting as a dictator of the films. Arbuckle could not find employment with established producers. He refused to work for "wildcat" concerns that would have paid him a large salary to make pictures that would have been exploited on the notoriety of his trial.

When Hays visited Hollywood in December he saw the extremes to which film men had gone in following his advice. Arbuckle could get employment of no kind in the industry. Then Hays said that, as an individual, he did not want to stand in the way of Arbuckle going to work. This statement was interpreted as a "reinstatement" of Arbuckle.

Arbuckle has gone to work for Joseph Schenck, his former employer. He is not starring in pictures. He may later appear in pictures.

Any "dictatorship" of the movies is an artificial position. The motion picture is one of the leading industries of the country. It depends on its relation with the public for its success. The only dictatorship of the movies is public opinion.

There are 20,000 people employed in the making of pictures. They can't be ruled over as subjects of a kingdom or czarism. They are artisans and artists pursuing their chosen vocations with the usual conditions that prevail between employer and employee.

No one man, regardless of his position or of his employers, can tell those 20,000 or any one of them when they can work and when they can't. If he had that power, his position would be out of keeping with all ideals of American government.

Hays is an adviser, not a dictator. I have talked with him at some length and I know that the above statements reflect his attitude and sentiments. You know, and I know, and Will Hays knows, that the only thing that will restore Arbuckle to the screen or keep him off it, will be public opinion.

Will Hays has outlined a constructive program for the betterment of living conditions in Hollywood. The colony is being planned as a great industrial center. A community house, gymnasium, libraries and other civic projects that will unite the various factions in their recreational and community life are to be established. As a welfare worker Hays will accomplish more for the good of the movies than he possibly could accomplish as a dictator.

If he can bring about a better understanding between the public and those engaged in the making of pictures he will do more for the uplift of the screen as a moral force and as an artist than all the censors, authorized and unauthorized. Hays is working to that end, not to the end of establishing or increasing his power as a dictator.

USE RIBBONS TO COVER HANGERS FOR GARMENTS

Clever women who do things with their hands, and who can combine efficiency with beauty, have discovered that the various garter ribbons on the market, which are woven in such a way that it only requires a piece of elastic to be run through to make a pair of garters, also make very good coverings for hangers. The ribbon comes in various widths, with lace, plain or nicot edge, in single and two colors, and it takes but a few minutes to pull this ribbon over a hanger, to catch it at the end and make it secure.

A piece of soft ribbon placed between the stocking and the metal fastener of a lady's garter, which will hold the ribbon in place when it is fastened, will do much to prolong the life of the silk stocking as it prevents runs.

GOOD MANNERS

At a formal "tea" the hostess stands near the drawing-room door to greet each guest. If her daughters receive with her they stand at her right.

A "tea" should be kept true to its name. If refreshments are served other than those customary at such a function, it becomes a reception in fact if not in name.

MAGAZINE IS AGAINST C. OF C. REFERENDUM

Referendum No. 40 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which will be submitted to local chamber of commerce members soon for a vote, is meeting with opposition. A letter of protest has been received here from the American School Board Journal, published in Milwaukee attacking the proposed move.

Copies of the referendum ballot have been received here, together with reports prepared by two special committees of the national chamber, one giving advantages of the venture and the other pointing out its disadvantages.

The referendum deals with establishment of a United States department of education, with a secretary in the president's cabinet. It is being given study by the community welfare committee here, and recommendations concerning it are to be prepared.

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little stomach is upset, tongue coated, or if your child is cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

TESTED RECIPES

DATE PIE

1 package dates
2 eggs
2-3 cup sugar.
1 cup sweet milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt

Wash and stone and chop dates fine. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored; add sugar, milk, cinnamon, salt and dates. Pour into an ungreased crust and bake in a slow oven until firm. Serve cold with whipped cream.

DATE FRUIT CAKE

1 1/2 cups butter
4 cups sugar
6 eggs
6 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons allspice
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 cups milk
2 packages dates
2 cups raisins

This recipe makes three medium sized or two large loaves. Cream butter and add sugar slowly, creaming them together. Beat eggs until light and add to butter mixture. Sift flour, baking powder, salt, soda and spices together and add alternately with milk. Add chopped dates and raisins. When thoroughly mixed pour into greased loaf pans and bake in slow oven two to four hours, depending upon size of pans.

DATE ICE CREAM

1 cup dates
1 1/2 cups cold water
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup rich milk
1 cup cream

Pinch of salt
Stone the dates, cover them with the water and allow to stand overnight. Cook in the same water until soft and rub through a strainer. Add the lemon juice, sugar, salt and cream, beat until stiff and then freeze.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

At a Bohemian wedding two slices of bread are given to the bride and bridegroom, the idea being that so long as the bread is kept the couple will not want. There is also a superstition that the one whose bread first collects mould will be first to die. The bride always gives to the bridegroom a shirt sewed with gold thread and colored silks, and a wedding ring.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by Rafael Sabatini

© RAFAEL SABATINI
ADAPT. NEA SERVICE

It was soon over. The brute strength upon which Levasseur so confidently counted, could avail nothing against the Irishman's practiced skill. When, with both lungs transfused, he lay prone on the white sand, coughing out his rascally life, Captain Blood looked calmly at Cahusac across the body.

"I think that cancels the articles between us," he said.

"If you will come to our anchorage, you shall receive at once your share of the booty of the Santiago, that you may dispose of it as you please."

They crossed the island, the two prisoners accompanying them, and later that day, the division made, they would have parted company but that Cahusac, at the instance of the men who had elected him Levasseur's successor, offered Captain Blood anew the services of that French contingent.

"If you will sail with me again," the Captain answered him, "you may do so on the condition that you make your peace with the Dutch, and restore the brig and her cargo."

The condition was accepted, and Captain Blood went off to find his guests, the children of the Governor of Tortuga.

M. d'Oregon was not in a forgiving mood.

"Mademoiselle," said he, "aboard this ship you shall be treated with all honor. So soon as we are in case to put to sea again, we steer a course for Tortuga to take you home to your father."

CHAPTER XVI
The Trap

That affair of Mademoiselle d'Oregon bore as its natural fruit an improvement in the already cordial relations between Captain Blood and the Governor of Tortuga.

So when it came to fitting out his fleet for an enterprise against Maracaibo, he did not want for either ships or men to follow him. He recruited five hundred adventurers in all, and he might have had as many thousands if he could have offered them accommodation.

Without difficulty he might have increased his fleet to twice its strength of ships but that he preferred to keep it what it was. The three vessels to which he confined it were the Arabella, the La Foudre, which Cahusac now commanded with a contingent of some six score Frenchmen, and the Santiago, which had been refitted and rechristened the Elizabeth.

Haighorpe, in virtue of his service in the navy, was appointed by Blood to command the Arabella, and the captain was confirmed by the men.

It was some months after the rescue of Mademoiselle d'Oregon—in August of that year 1687—that this little fleet sailed into the great lake of Maracaibo and effected its raid upon that opulent city of the Main.

The affair did not proceed exactly as was hoped, and Blood's force came to find itself in a precarious position.

A dispute was being conducted by Haighorpe, Wolvestone, and Pitt on the one side, and Cahusac, on the other, of whose uneasiness it all arose, on the other.

"Is it that I have not warned you from the beginning that all was too easy?" Cahusac demanded. "I see an abandoned fort at the entrance of the lake, and nobody there to fire a gun at us when we came in. Then I suspect the trap. What do you find?"

A city, abandoned like the fort, Captain Blood, he will go on, and we go off. We go to Gibraltar. True that at last, after long time, we catch the Deputy Governor, true, we make him pay big ransom for Gibraltar, true between that ransom and the loot we return here with some two thousand pieces of eight. It is a piece of cheese in a mouse trap, and we are the little mice. The cats are those four Spanish ships of war that have come meantime. And they wait for us outside the bottle-neck of this lagoon.

He checked. At that moment, up sauntered Peter Blood. With him came a tough, long-legged French sea wolf named Yverville, who, though still young, had already won fame as a privateer commander before the loss of his own ship had driven him to take service under Blood. The Captain advanced toward that disputing group, leaning lightly upon his long ebony cane, his face shaded by a broad-plumed hat.

He spoke quietly, almost wearily. "You will be telling them that we have delayed, and that it is the delay that has brought about our danger. But whose is the fault of that delay?"

"Ah ca Nom de Dieu! Was it my fault that..."

"Was it any one else's fault that..."

You ran your ship La Foudre aground on the shoal in the middle of the lake? You would not be piloted. The result was that we lost three precious days in getting canoes to bring off your men and your gear. After that, and because of it, we had to follow the Governor to his infernal island fortress, and a fortnight and best part of a hundred lives were lost in reducing it. That's how we came to have delayed until this Spanish fleet is fetched round from La Guayra by a guarda-costa."

He spoke with a restraint which I trust you will agree was admirable when I tell you that the Spanish fleet was commanded by his implacable enemy, Don Miguel de Espinosa y Valdez, the Admiral of Spain.

"There's no good can come of talking of what's past and done," cried Cahusac. "The question is: what are we to do now?"

"Sure, now, there's no question at all," said Captain Blood.

"Indeed, but there is," Cahusac insisted. "Don Miguel, the Spanish Admiral, have offer us safe passage to sea if we will depart at once, do no damage to the town, release our prisoners, and surrender all that we took at Gibraltar."

Captain Blood smiled quietly. "If you and your own French followers wish to avail yourselves of the Spaniard's terms, we shall not hinder you."

"Precisely what answer have you made to the Admiral?"

A smile irradiated the face and eyes of Captain Blood.

"I have answered him that unless within four-and-twenty hours we have his parole to stand out to sea I refuse to dispute our passage or hinder our departure, and a ransom of fifty thousand pieces of eight for Maracaibo, we shall reduce this beautiful city to ashes, and there-after go out and destroy his fleet."

The impudence of it left Cahusac speechless.

They must strike ere Don Miguel received the reinforcement of that fifth galleon, the Santo Nino, which was coming to join him from La Guayra.

The principal operations were on the larger of the two sloops captured at Gibraltar, to which vessel was assigned the leading part in Captain Blood's scheme. They began by tearing down all bulkheads, until they had reduced her to the merest shell and in her sides they broke open so many ports that her gun-wale was converted into the semblance of a grating. Next they increased by a half-dozen the sentries in her deck, while two her hull they packed with the tar and pitch and the gunpowder that they could find in the town, to which they added six barrels of gunpowder, placed on end like guns at the open ports on her larboard side.

On the evening of the fourth day all were got aboard, and the city of Maracaibo was at last abandoned. But they did not weight anchor until some two hours after midnight. Then they drifted silently down to ward the bar.

The order of the going was as follows: Aboard went their improvised fire-ship in charge of Wolvestone, with a crew of six volunteers, each of whom was to have a hundred pieces of eight over and above his share of plunder as a special reward. Next came the Arabella. She was followed at a distance by the Elizabeth commanded by Haighorpe with whom was the now shipless Cahusac and the bulk of his French followers. The rear was brought up by the second sloop and some eight cannon, aboard of which the prisoners and slaves had been shipped and most of the captured merchandise.

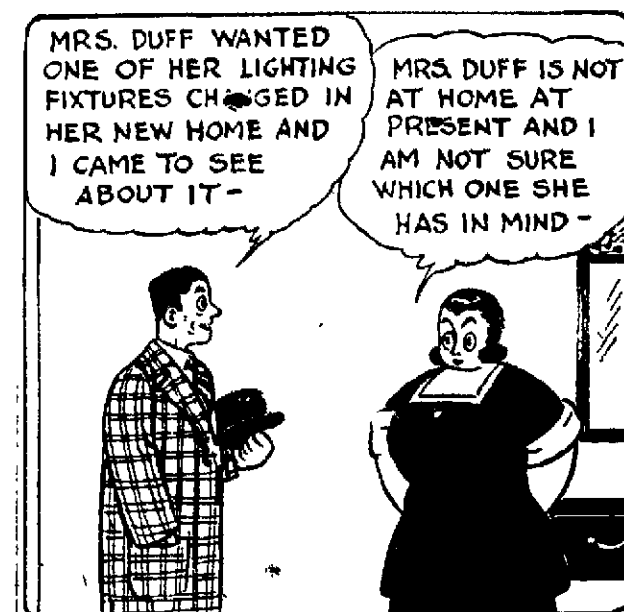

The Spaniards did not sight Blood's fleet in that dim light until some time after Blood's fleet had sighted them.

Straight for the Admiral's great ship, the Encarnacion, did Wolvestone head the sloop, then, lashing down the helm, he kindled from a match that hung ready lighted beside him a great torch of thickly plaited straw that had been steeped in burning oil, and swung it around it burst into flame, just as the slight vessel went crashing and bumping and scraping against the side of the flagship. His six men stood at their posts on the larboard side, stark naked, each armed with a grapple, four of them on the gunwale, two of them aloft. At the moment of impact these grapnels were slung to bind the Spaniard to them.

Aboard the rudely awakened galleon, all was confused hurry, scurrying, trumpeting, and shouting.

ELK BOWLING TOURNEY ENTRIES SHATTER ALL MARKS

Between 250 And 275 Teams Will Take Part In Pin Classic Here

"Bills" Of Entire State Register $5,000 Will Be Toothsome Attraction To Experts And "Good Fellows"

Between 250 and 275 five man teams will take part in the Elks bowling tournament, Jan. 27 to March 11, smashing all previous figures of the Wisconsin Elks Bowling association, says an official statement by James H. Balliet, secretary "de affaires" issued Tuesday after the first survey of the entry list which closed Jan. 14. There were 231 teams in last year's classic.

This means that Appleton will be host to nearly 1,500 pin knights and there will be about 44 more teams participating in the classic than last year when Appleton also entertained the "Bills" of the state and then also shattered all past attendance records $5,000 FOR PRIZES

Five thousand dollars from entry fees will be the prize for which the untried visitors are to roll. Sixty per cent of this sum will go for expert bowling and 40 per cent in "good fellowship" prizes, thus giving all visitors a chance at the money.

Appleton will not only be the host to the "most successful" ten pin event of the B. P. O. E. of Badgerdom but the local lodge also will lead with the number of entries. Sixty-five teams will be entered from the Paper City alone. The race for outside attendance honors probably will go to Green Bay with 30 or 35 teams. An official check is still in progress. Oshkosh is sure to take the "cake" for the big cash entry. Although there are only 22 teams coming from the Sawdust City, Oshkosh cash contribution is $500 as many of the men have entered in the doubles and singles.

To George Hilton, president of the Oshkosh Bowling association, goes the honor of selecting the "penalties." His achievement from the standpoint of the tournament committee is singular.

APPLETON IS PROUD Appleton, particularly its 800 "Bills" are beaming with pride over the achievement of being twice hosts to the biggest Elks sport event in the history of the state.

Credit for the success of the tournament is due chiefly to James H. Balliet, secretary of the Appleton committee and to the other members. Walter K. Miller, president and J. F. Johnston, vice president, who have showered the Brother "Bills" in all corners of the state with literature and other "spell binding" matter until the entry blanks "boomed" in a literal shower. Aiding the local committee in "wrestling" the untamed ones, was the executive committee of the state association.

This corps is composed of Gustave Kent, president, Sheboygan; L. R. Stollberg, Milwaukee; H. L. Davis, Appleton; A. J. Hollick, Racine; E. P. Wiecek, Neenah; C. V. Deffy, Kenosha; B. A. Husting, Fond du Lac; George Hilton, Oshkosh; J. A. Cashin, Stevens Point; M. A. Smith, Wausau; John McCall, Madison and Secretary T. Van Beck, Madison.

The eleventh annual Elks tournament will start at 2 o'clock Saturday, Jan. 27, with the first ball rolled by City Fathers, a team composed of Appleton city officials. Alderman Leslie Hansen will captain this aggregation. Other members are Chief of Police George T. Prim, Aldermen John Lappen, C. F. Smith and James Wood.

LEAGUES TO QUIT In the meantime elaborate preparations are being made at the Elks clubhouse to prepare for the visitors

START MOVEMENT FOR WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN LEAGUE

Wolverine Attempting To Organize Cities From Both States Into Daily Wheel

A new movement to organize a daily baseball league is on. J. R. Williams, a resident of Ludington, Mich. is the would-be organizer.

According to his "dope" a Michigan-Wisconsin baseball league, made up of cities on each side of the lake, is a probability for next season. Ludington, Manistee, and Muskegon are scheduled for franchises in the Wolverine state, and Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Green Bay or Milwaukee are the Wisconsin cities mentioned.

The project has not yet passed the creative stage. Lapping and Ludington were left out in the cold when the Central league disbanded and Ludington with a population of 6,000 and a prosperous outfit in the Central league, is anxious to get back to every day ball.

Daily baseball has been a dead issue in the state outside of Milwaukee, since the Wisconsin-Illinois league went into retirement. The Michigan boosters for the new league are confident that the new organization can go through. They point to the cheap transportation for each club. A night trip on the lake will take any club to any other city, since all of them border on the lake shore.

FRATERNITIES START BOWLING; CUP AT STAKE

Lawrence college Interfraternity Bowling league rolled its first game Monday night on the Olympic alleys. Seven fraternities will vie for a bowling cup which must be won three times before it can be retained permanently. The Delta, Iota, Phi, winners in 1920 and in 1921 will lend its efforts to copy the trophy this year.

The fraternities, taking part in the league are Theta Phi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Beta Sigma Phi, Delta Sigma Tau, Delta Iota.

All local tournaments on the Elks floors, Monday, Thursday and Friday night leagues will cease rolling with the end of this week, according to an announcement by H. L. Dawson, chairman of clubhouse bowling. After that the alleys will be gone over, given a polish and put in the best possible shape for the championship battles.

Elks who will invade the Paper City will be given a loyal reception by Exalted Ruler Daniel P. Stenberg, and the other members.

Achievements of last year will force the 1923 visitors to do some hustling if they will want to top the figures of 1922. Some of these are:

Highest five men score—Rainbow Gardens, Appleton, 3001.

Highest double score—E. Barth and E. Herzog, Racine, 1228.

Highest single score—M. Zoschke, Milwaukee, 659.

A gala day of the tournament will be on Feb. 12, when Jimmy Smith, Milwaukee, former world champion, will take a fling at the pins.

Who'd Win? Jack or Lewis?

HOW DEMPSEY WOULD LOOK IN THE CLUTCHES OF THE HEADLOCK AS CLAMPED ON BY LEWIS

If Jack Dempsey should ever meet the Strangler Lewis in a mixed match, could Dempsey break the deadly headlock which has won so many matches for Lewis?

When the question was put to Dempsey, he simply replied: "Why worry about that feature of the match—there isn't a chance in the world for Lewis to get the headlock on me."

"I figure a couple of stiff punches to the stomach and a right to the jaw will soon settle the bout. The stomach muscles of the wrestler won't stand much mauling."

On the other hand, Lewis figures that one round will be about all that Dempsey will last.

"I don't believe Dempsey would last over a round. That is about as long as he would be able to keep his feet. Once I forced Dempsey to the floor, the match would soon be over."

Volleyball Carnival Draws Business Men

"Overtime" In Practice And Study Of Rules Shows Interest—Games To Be Played Friday Night

With interest among the city volleyball players keyed to a high pitch in the Y. M. C. A. Volleyball carnival Friday night, volleyball enthusiasts are putting in "overtime" in practice and studying rules of the sport, according to the report of Arthur Jensen, physical director of the "Y."

Volleyball seems to be the principal diversion of the Appleton business men, according to Mr. Jensen.

Volleyballers, like the basketball, football and baseball bugs, are constantly demanding less complicated rules for the game. The rule that is giving the players the most trouble is the one about catching and holding the ball. Says John Brown, Jr., an authority on volleyball about this:

"There has been much confusion and difficulty because of a wide variation in the interpretation and application of Rule VII, Section 10, relating to catching or holding the ball. To clarify the statement of this rule, the following sentence has been added: 'Scoping, lifting, showing or following the ball shall be considered as holding.' In other words, the player must hit or strike the ball with his hands or arms in contact with the ball longer than the time necessary to make the impact which instantly drives the ball from his hands."

RECEIVING SLOW BALL. "This prohibits the play which is quite frequently seen in which a player receives a very low ball and carries his hands down to hit the ball several inches before beginning his upward movement, then slowly lifting the ball with his hands in contact with the ball for a distance of six to twelve inches, before the ball actually leaves his hands. The same is true of the play in which the player receives a high ball over his head and carries the ball back in contact with his hands for several inches before beginning the forward movement, the hands still remaining in contact with the ball for six or twelve inches before the player gives final drive and direction to it."

"One of the most frequent violations of this rule occurs when a player at the net jumps to 'kill' the ball and in so doing, receives and 'handles' the ball in such a way that the ball is actually in contact with his hands for an appreciable length of time before he makes his last move."

FIGHTERS TO MIX GLOVES IN MILWAUKEE TONIGHT

All Preliminary Races To Be Held On Rink In Jones Park On Sunday

Gold Medals Instead Of Skates To Be Given Winners In Final Events—Truly Emblematic Of Championship

SUNDAY'S SKATING PROGRAM 440 yard dash—First ward senior men. 220 yard dash—Jones park intermediate boys. 440 yard dash—Third ward intermediate boys. Mile—Third ward seniors. 100 yard dash—First ward midwinters. 220 yard dash—First ward intermediate boys. 880 yards—Jones park senior girls. 220 yards—Fifth ward intermediate boys. Mile—First ward senior boys. 440 yard dash—Jones park intermediate boys. 220 yard dash—Third ward intermediate boys. 220 yard dash—Third ward senior girls. 440 yard dash—First ward intermediate boys. 440 yard dash—Third ward senior men. Backward, 75 yards—Third ward intermediate boys.

Two important changes in the plans for the ice skating championship of Appleton are announced today. One change is due to the necessity for calling off Sunday's preliminary races because of the condition of the ice in the Jones park rink and the other because it was believed that more suitable prizes than skates could be obtained for contestants in the senior and intermediate divisions.

RINKS TOO SMALL It has been decided to combine all the elimination races on the Jones park rink on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21. The Third and Fifth ward were found to be too small after an investigation and the First ward and Fourth ward rinks are not centrally enough located.

The Jones park rink provides excellent accommodation for spectators, is centrally located and is large enough to hold excellent races, therefore all the preliminary events will be held there. Each district, however, will hold its own races to pick racers who are to compete in the finals on Jan. 28. The three winners of first, second and third place from each district in each event will compete for the championships.

Names of the skaters who are to compete in the races next Sunday will be announced in a day or two. All skaters who have entered the races and whose names are not listed among the contestants in the preliminaries will be automatically eligible to skate in the finals because there are not a sufficient number of entrants to make the preliminary races necessary.

The second important change is that medals instead of skates and skating paraphernalia will be given to first place winners in the senior and intermediate events. Most of the medals are gold, emblematic of the championship in the events in which they are won. They are suitably engraved with the name of the event in which they were won, and the year and if the winners desire, their names will be engraved on the reverse side. These gold and sterling silver medals are truly emblematic of the championship and were ordered only after it was felt that they would be more highly prized than skates. The prizes for each event will be announced soon.

Next Sunday's program will start promptly at 1 o'clock.

MANITOWOC MECCA OF K. C. PIN MEN

Appleton Knights of Columbus Men To Be Represented At Tourney

Manitowoc—For 38 days from Feb. 7 to March 11 Manitowoc will be the Mecca for more than 1,500 bowlers who will come here to compete in the seventh annual Knights of Columbus tournament.

About 25 cities will be represented. Green Bay will send 25 teams, Milwaukee a like number, Sheboygan, 20, Kenosha has notified the local committee that it can be depended upon for fifteen sets of bowlers. Janesville, West Bend and other places will send smaller numbers while this city will, of course have at least forty teams. Appleton has also notified that it will be well represented.

The Manitowoc council, Knights of Columbus, is well able to handle this year's tournament. With its new $100,000 club house every convenience is afforded visitors. In the basement of the club are four alleys, said to be the finest in eastern Wisconsin. The Elks' club alleys will also be utilized. They, too, are excellent.

SWIMMING CLUB TO MEET IN "Y" TANK THURSDAY

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. swimming club, recently organized under the supervision of Everett Wright will be held Thursday night in the "Y."

Tank tests will be the chief end of the program Thursday.

Another meeting with possibly public exhibition in aquatic work will take place Feb. 3, according to present plans.

Dancing, Hotel Appleton. Every Wednesday. Gib Horst.

ZWICK GOT START IN APPLETON RING

Kaukauna Sleep Producer To Be Chief Attraction In Fondy Wednesday

Fond du Lac has the stage set for its premier boxing card Wednesday night, Jack Zwick, Kaukauna sleep producer and Jimmy Nichols, the Chicago welter will be the principals.

Zwick will draw a host of Appleton fans. It was in this burg only a short time ago that he made his debut. Since then he has copped something like 14 scraps, eleven by knockouts.

FOUGHT ED WAGNER

Zwick's first fight was a six round affair in Appleton where he drew with Ed Wagner. He scored his first knockout in Neenah over a year ago against Speedy Johnson in the first round. A few nights later the Kaukauna wizard trounced Appleton where he put Harry Blize to sleep in the second round. He also knocked out Frank Eiseh in Appleton. Frank Albright succumbed at Manitowoc and Red Vuk but the dust in Green Bay Frankie Sanders was knocked out by Zwick in Oshkosh and Frank Dryvitski was rocked from his pins at Green Bay. With the exception of Johnson, all of the above knockouts, seven straight, were made by Zwick in the second round.

SCHOENDORF WAS TIGHT

Zwick's first real tough opponent was Jack Schoendorf, whom the Kaukauna boy met and went to a ten round draw in Dubuque. In Zwick knocked out Schoendorf in a return match during the fourth round. Schoendorf was still under the delusion that he was a better man than Zwick and another match was arranged for the two. Zwick being awarded the fight after two rounds of milling. During the last two months Zwick knocked out Billy Burns twice in Milwaukee, in the seventh and fourth rounds of the two battles. Zwick's latest knockout was over Tommy Neary, a tough Milwaukee scrapper whom the state welter champ put to sleep without the aid of chop.

BEEBE WOULD TRAIN HOME TALENT FOR OSHKOSH BALL CLUB

Former Hurler Forming Plans For Coming Season With State League

Oshkosh—Fred Beebe, veteran pitcher with a long string of successful seasons in professional baseball, has about decided to buy the Oshkosh franchise from the former Fox River Valley club and toss his hat into the Wisconsin State League ring.

He does not say so definitely, but admits that the proposition of leading the Indians next season appears attractive to him and that inasmuch as he has an option on the local franchise, he will probably be ready to make a final decision in time to announce it at the meeting to be held next Sunday at Appleton by representatives of the Wisconsin State League.

SIX CLUBS CERTAIN

He states that five clubs are all ready to put up their forfeit money, these being Green Bay, Manitowoc, Marinette-Menominee, Appleton and Neenah-Menasha. With Oshkosh in, this would give a six team league at the least and it may be that Fond du Lac and Sheboygan will decide to cast their lot with the state league, making an eight club circuit. Mr. Beebe declares.

DEVELOP HOME PLAYERS

If Mr. Beebe buys the Oshkosh franchise, as he now anticipates, he proposes to devote much of his time and energy to developing home talent for the Indian team. In other words, he proposes to engage only such outside talent as he will actually need to make the team a leading one in the race for the valuer pennant, relying largely upon local hall players. In this connection he said:

"I propose to give special attention to Oshkosh material in gathering a team for the league. There is plenty of high class talent here, some of which has been forced to go to other cities to play ball because the opportunity was not given to play at home as readily as elsewhere."

His experience in the major leagues should enable him to develop home players in a way that will be to our mutual advantage and a team composed of local Oshkosh boys ought to get stronger support from the fans that if a lot of material was imported.

WANTS TO STAY HERE

The reason Beebe likes the idea of managing the Indians is that he has a small farm on the lake shore here that needs his attention and he would prefer to remain in Oshkosh if it is possible.

He would be in a position to pitch for his team when necessary. Last season he hurled forty games with the Wichita team in the Western league, which finished second in the pennant race, after a series of hard-luck breaks in injuries to players. The year previous Beebe was one of the leading pitchers on the Wichita team and it won the championship. He has played with the Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati, St. Louis Nationals, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Buffalo and Louisville, besides doing considerable coaching for university teams.

ORIOLE FIVE, KAUKAUNA QUINT, WANTS GAMES

The Oriole Five, a basketball team averaging about 115 pounds wants to secure games with fast teams of its class in this vicinity. The Orioles will play strictly amateur basketball. Managers are asked to write to George Boyd, Kaukauna, Wis. for dates.

BULLSEYES of BASEBALL

NO. 7—MOST UNUSUAL DEBUT I EVER SAW

THE debut of any recruit pitcher in the majors is the big event of his baseball career.

I have seen a number of recruits come and go. Often the do but of certain recruit pitchers marks their finish. Some meet with remarkable success, others have only ordinary luck, and for a great many it is a calamity.

The most unusual debut I ever saw a recruit pitcher make in the majors, was put on by Ray Keating, who for a number of years was a valuable member of the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

Keating was a spit-ball pitcher, and he had a varied assortment of most deceivers. The umpire who called balls and strikes with Keating doing the pitching always had a busy day.

The first time I ever saw Keating was in a game at St. Louis. The Browns were leading by a lop-sided score. A Yankee pinch hitter was sent in to bat in the eighth inning for the pitcher, and Keating was delegated to work the last half of the inning.

Gossip had been going the rounds that Keating had a choice lot of foolers, but Jacked control. Before the inning was over I was positive that gossip was correct for once.

FAMILIES TO MIX FUN AND BUSINESS AT CHURCH SUPPER

Usual Surprises Await Congregational Members At Annual Meeting

Surprises are sprung on members of the First Congregational church every year at the annual meeting, and the gathering at 6:15 Thursday evening will be no exception. Reports which the pastors consider uninteresting when read off one after another have been presented in a unique way for the last few years, and a change will be made again this year. The mode of giving them will not be known until the time of the meeting.

With the more serious features of the yearly windup of business gotten out of the way last week when the financial matters were taken up, this meeting will become a great family affair. There is to be a supper at 6:15, with tables enough so all may be seated at once.

Each family is to bring its sandwiches and the church ladies will serve one hot dish and coffee. Members are to be seated by districts according to the ward social plan adopted recently and a lively contest is in progress to see which group will have the largest attendance.

COUNCIL MAY NOT EXTEND TAX TIME AT ITS MEETING

Only Small Amount Of Tax Has Been Paid Treasurer So Far This Month

Only a small portion of the total tax levy has been collected by Fred Bachman, city treasurer, since the opening of the tax collection period on Dec. 29. After the first rush to pay taxes, the crowds that once filled the treasurer's office have now subsided to but a small group of persons. A 2 per cent collection will be charged on unpaid taxes after Jan. 31. It is apparent that a considerable number of property owners are depending upon the possibility that the common council will extend the limit of the taxpaying period from Jan. 31 to the last of February. Wednesday evening will be the last opportunity of the council to decide upon what policy will be followed this year. The sentiment in city hall circles is to the effect that no extension of time will be granted this year on account of the interest that would be lost on bank deposits.

The total tax warrant of the city treasurer amounts to $1,092,759.47 and includes the following items: State tax, $37,000; special state charge on city, $2,051.52; county tax, $197,627.21; county schools, $29,072.85; street improvement, $12,412.51; library, $12,000; high school, $95,000; vocational school, $37,451.27; school district, No. 1, $37,049.51; No. 2, $53,724.24; No. 3, $36,071.31; No. 4, $21,566.13; water works delinquent accounts, $180.27; income tax $125,678.65; surtax, $30,339.08; general city tax levy, $347,706.03; special taxes, $54,939.49; collection fees, $8.20.

NEW CHAIRMAN

Eli Skeneandoh, Oneida, was elected chairman of the Oneida committee to succeed Nelson Metoxen who resigned because he changed his residence to Chicago. A finance committee which will endeavor to raise $10,000 with which to pay the expenses of prosecuting the Indians' claims was appointed. The Oneida committee consists of Mrs. Laura Cornelius Kellogg, chairman, Henry Smith and Philip Cornelius, all of Oneida. This committee will cooperate with a similar organization from the Brotherhood and Stockbridge Indians. Their committee consists of Henry Fowler, Fond du Lac; Robert Johnson, Quinney; Charles Matthews, Stockbridge.

Excellent progress is being made in the Indians' movement. It was reported. Almost a nationwide interest has been created in the Indians' attempt to recover land valued at $2,000,000,000 in the heart of New York.
